PRESIDENT TAFT

COMMUTED DEATH SENTENCE TO LIFE IMPRISONMENT

WASHINGTON, May 19.—President Taft, yielding to the strong sentiment in Kansas against capital punishment, and where a law has been passed against it, yesterday commuted to life imprisonment the death sentence upon Private Charles O'Neal of the United States army, who was to have been executed on the military reservation at Fort Leavenworth May 28.

O'Neal killed his sweetheart, Minnie Sharbano, in a fit of jealous rage. Representatives Scott of Kansas and Chapman of Illinois called on the president yesterday and presented the matter to him. It was in order not to bring the federal law into conflict with the state law that the president decided to commute the sentence.

BRIBERY CHARGE

Mayor White of Lawrence and Other Officials Arrested

LAWRENCE, May 19.—Expressions of great surprise following the arrest last night of Mayor White, his private secretary, Matthew Degrey Ripon, Jas. A. Hamilton, chief engineer of the fire department, and eight other prominent political men, continue to be heard today throughout the city.

Mayor White declared that his arrest was an outrage. "I am innocent," he said, "and I will prove it." The others who were arrested made similar statements.

COURT INDICTMENT RETURNED
LAWRENCE, May 19.—Twelve secret indictments in connection with the local municipal "graft" investigation were reported by the Essex county grand jury at Newburyport yesterday afternoon, and last night between three and four hours were consumed by members of the local police force in serving capias upon those against whom charges had been brought.

The list included Mayor William P. White, Chief Engineer James A. Hamilton of the fire department, Matthew Burns and Xavier Legendre, members of last year's board of aldermen; Matthew Degrey Ripon, Mayor White's private secretary; John J. Cummings, a liquor dealer; Thomas A. Keegan, a plasterer; William H. Moisson, a real estate and insurance agent; Fred Koschitzky, a drug clerk; George B. Smart, a master plumber; and Ernest Dube. The remaining one is said to be out of the city, and, as is customary, the indictment against him was withheld.

Bribery, conspiracy to bribe and larceny are included in the charges, it is said.

White Notified by Phone
State Police Officer Fred P. Flynn was given the capias after the secret indictments were reported by the jury and he came to the city and the cooperation of the police department was given in serving them.

Mayor White and Sec. Ripon were notified by telephone by City Marshal Fox. Capt. Sullivan of the night patrol reached others, while in two instances patrolmen served the papers.

Some of the men indicted had arranged for their bondsmen before reaching the station.

Charge Against Mayor
Mayor White was charged with conspiracy to bribe, although there are understood to be several counts included in the indictment. A similar charge is brought against Burns, Smart, Dube and Koschitzky. Legendre is charged with requesting a bribe, Hamilton, Keegan and Moisson with bribery and Cummings and Ripon with larceny.

John Daly, Jr., and Thomas E. McDonnell became sureties for Mayor White, ex-Mayor James R. Simpson for Chief Hamilton, ex-Supt. of Streets John C. Needham for ex-Aldermen Burns and Legendre, and City Marshal Richard H. Fox for Sec. Ripon. The others were also bailed. They are alleged to appear in court today in Newburyport.

Cause of Indictments
Most of the indictments, it is alleged, had to do with the appointment of Chief Engineer Hamilton as head of the fire department and the subsequent alleged attempt to oust him. The charge against the chief himself and Ex-Aldermen Burns was said to be in connection with both features of the case.

Mayor White's part was in the alleged effort to depose Hamilton and Thomas A. Keegan, George B. Smart, Fred Koschitzky and Ernest Dube were similarly associated, according to the jury's finding.

William M. Moisson, it is alleged, was a party to the selection of the chief for the fire department head. Cummings is charged with larceny of a quantity of confiscated liquor from the police station and a like charge is brought against Ripon in connection with a charge of automobile hire against the Fourth of July celebration fund of last year.

Ex-Alderman Legendre is charged with having sought a bribe for his endorsement of a trolley express franchise.

Alleged Attempt to Bribe

The return of the indictments shook the city to the very foundations. The investigation had its inception early in the year as a result of the alleged attempt to oust Chief Engineer Hamilton. Ex-Alderman Legendre claimed that an effort had been made to have him vote in favor of the removal of the chief, $1000 being offered as an inducement.

STRUCK BY TRAIN

Lowell Man Badly Hurt
at Worcester

Michael Hunt, aged 43, a weaver whose home is at 125 Stackpole street, this city, while looking for work in the mill towns around Worcester yesterday, lost his right leg by being run over by a freight train near the Jamesville station, says a press despatch to The Sun.

Hunt had visited the mills in Hopewell, and Jamesville and was walking on the railroad tracks when struck by the train. He was removed in the ambulance to a hospital.

Mr. William Hunt, a well known employe of the Lowell water works, and brother of the injured man, was informed of the accident last night and he immediately telephoned to the city

This report was made to the chief by the ex-alderman, the former said, and Hamilton urged that it be taken up by Dist. Atty. Peters.

Finally, after the grand jury had completed its work for the January term of court, the members were called together in special session in this city. A couple of weeks were spent in the investigation, a score or more witnesses being summoned.

Various other reports of alleged graft were inquired into, the naming of new members of the fire department and the installation of a new fire alarm system being included in the investigation besides the matters covered by the indictments returned yesterday. The jury adjourned until the present term without announcing its findings.

As Mayor White was leaving the clerk of court's office with his bondsmen he greeted the newspaper men with the remark: "Be down in court tomorrow if you want to hear the greatest plea you ever listened to."

EASY VICTORY

MONTREAL, May 19.—Zybsko, the Polish wrestler, last night easily defeated DeRouen, the Frenchman, in two straight falls. In the first fall DeRouen hit the mat so hard that he was unconscious for two minutes.

This afternoon it was learned that the right leg was so badly injured that it was necessary to amputate it above the knee. The left leg, was only bruised and the doctors entertain every hope for his recovery.

SHORT LIST CLEANED

Six Cases Were Settled at Superior Court Today

Court Suspended This Noon as Two Juries Were Out at the Same Time—Case Against the Cowley Estate Went to Jury
This Morning

Business progressed most rapidly at the superior court within the past 48 hours for Clerk Smith announced this morning the settlement of six cases that were on the short list and which it tried would have taken over one week.

As a result all of the previously assigned cases have been disposed of up to date and tomorrow Clerk Smith will take up the regular list. There are still other assigned cases to be heard but for the present cases on the regular list will be called.

The two cases of Keleher vs. Boston and Maine, Messrs. Cookley for the plaintiff and Trull and Wier for the defendant, have been non-suited by agreement and the following cases, all of which were to come up in order beginning today, have been settled: Hamel vs. Lowell and Suburban, Messrs. Qua for the plaintiff and Donbar and Rogers for the defendant; two cases of McDermott vs. Federal Shoe company, Messrs. Qua for plaintiff and Dunbar and Rogers for the defendant; Harris vs. Bailey, ex. Kennedy for plaintiff and Sawyer for defendant.

The case of Henry O. Keyes of Westford vs. Pike & Son, contractors, who are building a mill for the Bigelow Carpet company in this city, was tried this morning. H. C. Charbonneau appeared for the plaintiff and Haven Hill for the defendants. The case was a short one and involved about $50 over the purchase and subsequent rejection of 30 piles. The case went to the jury about noon, and the case next in order, that of Mary C. Shea, through her mother, Catherine Shea, vs. Paul Zutter et als, went to trial. The Messrs. Hogan appeared for the plaintiff and Dunbar & Rogers for the defendant. The plaintiff's declaration alleges that on Oct. 1, 1909, while in the employ of the defendants at the United States Hunting company, she was seriously injured by the breaking of a defective belt on some of the machinery of the plant. The defendant's answer was a general denial. Dr. Daniel A. O'Hearn appeared as the medical witness for the plaintiff. The ad damnum is $5000.

When the Keyes case was finished the jury in the Cowley case was still out and court was obliged to suspend until 2 o'clock for lack of a sufficient number of jurors to sit on the next case.

The Cowley Case
The case of Stella D. Smith vs. Cowley estate was finished at adjournment last evening but Judge Hardy considerably allowed them to go home last evening and go to the jury room this morning.

It was nearly four o'clock when the arguments were finished and as Judge Hardy was about to begin his charge to the jury he glanced at the clock and then remarked that owing to the lateness of the hour he might not finish his charge at that time, in which case he said: "If we survive our experience with the fall of the case, I shall conclude in the morning." Honor finished his charge before adjournment.

After the defence had concluded the plaintiff put on Edward W. Trull, clerk of the police; Walter W. Cleworth, teller of the Traders' National bank; J. Harry Boardman and Asa W. Flint of the City Institution for Savings, all of whom testified that they were familiar with Judge Cowley's handwriting and that they expressed the opinion that the signature on the note was genuine.

The jury in the case of Keyes vs. Pike & Son returned a verdict of $4.63 for the plaintiff.

The jury in the Cowley case was still out this afternoon and court adjourned until tomorrow.

SCHOOL TEACHER
COACHED HER CLASS TEAM AT BASEBALL

NEW YORK, May 19.—Miss M. Louise Davis, a teacher of Orange, N. J., who recently umpired a game of baseball between boys of her class and a team from another school, has added to her laurels with a display of prowess "at the points."

In spite of the gallery which assembled to watch her, Miss Davis stuck to that post throughout the game and enlivened the contest by coaching the lads of her own class. Miss Davis gave them many good pointers, but they were outclassed by the other team, which is of bigger boys.

We still have a great demand for this flour. When we accepted the agency of this brand for this city little we thought of the tremendous popularity which it was going to attain. Housewives who have used it have been pleased with the fine, light and wholesome loaf which it produces. If you have not tried this flour inquire of your neighbor about its merits. The sale has been so great that surely some of your neighbors are among the satisfied clientele and can make you acquainted with its superiority.

BUTTERINE-Vermont Brand

Extra 25c lb. Crescent 15c lb. 30 lb. Tubs 14c lb.

"As good as butter." When we make this assertion we are fully aware of its scope. This Butterine has been tested by the government officials and their seal of "purity" is on each tub. WOMAN ON TRIAL

She is Held on a Charge of Smuggling Goods

TRENTON, N. J., May 19.—Mrs. Matilda Chesbrough, whose husband, Fremont B. Chesbrough, owns a line of coastwise steamers plying out of Boston, and also a large part of a town in Michigan, was placed on trial in the United States district court yesterday on a charge of smuggling. For five hours Mrs. Chesbrough listened to the government witnesses called to prove the allegation that she had planned to escape payment of duty upon about $2500 worth of goods which she had in her trunk when she landed in Hoboken on May 25, 1909.

Mrs. Chesbrough watched the customs officials unpack one of her big steamer trunks and exhibit to the jury an alleged false bottom under which the government claims a portion of the dutiable articles were discovered. In direct evidence the fact that several months before her arrival a pearl necklace, valued by the customs authorities at $25,000, was seized.

The details of this seizure were not brought out in yesterday's proceedings, and from the objections of Mrs. Chesbrough's counsel it was evident that an effort will be made to prevent implicating her in the importation of the necklace. The fact that there was such a necklace in existence was the result of finding in one of Mrs. Chesbrough's trunks a bill for an $18,000 pearl necklace.

While this phase of the case was under investigation, Mr. Chesbrough told the government officials that the necklace had been shipped to Canada, where it was being held in a safe deposit bank pending the passage of the revised tariff law, which he anticipated would reduce the duty upon pearls. Agents were sent by the government to Canada, but the necklace was not found. Subsequently it was surrendered under circumstances which have not yet been made public.

Inspector John B. Kiernan of the New York custom house testified yesterday as to finding the dutiable goods in the false bottom of the trunk. Counsel for Mrs. Chesbrough tried to put in evidence the proceedings at the recent seizure of goods belonging to former Governor Rollins of New Hampshire, who with members of his family was charged with smuggling, but it was ruled out.

Mr. Kiernan said he had been directed to go to the lay in vision, where the necklace was turned over to him, and he added it to the list of Mrs. Chesbrough's property which had been seized.

John J. Benk, an appraiser, testified to an examination he had made of Mrs. Chesbrough's effects and Deputy Surveyor McKean verified the testimony of Mr. Kiernan as to the examination of Mrs. Chesbrough's effects. He said she had told him that the man who packed her trunks had advised her that there were no articles below the false bottom which she needed to declare.

DEMOCRATIC UNION MET

NEWARK, N. J., May 19.—Three United States senators—all democrats—preached the gospel of "Back to the Constitution" here last night at a meeting in Krueger auditorium, held under the auspices of the Democratic Union of New Jersey.

The meeting was arranged by leaders of the union as the beginning of a movement which they hope will assume a national aspect, demanding a return to government in accordance with a stricter interpretation of the constitution and opposed to the so-called special interests. The speakers were Senators Joseph A. Bailey of Texas, Joseph F. Johnston of Alabama and William E. Purcell of North Dakota.

FIREBUG IS BUSY

Two Attempts to Burn a House

BOSTON, May 19.—Two attempts within an hour of each other were made last night to burn the three-story frame tenement house at 574 Dorchester street, South Boston, occupied by two families, numbering fourteen persons all told.

The house is situated in a densely populated district.

The first fire was discovered at 9.30 o'clock by John McEllan, who, with his wife and six small children, occupy the third floor. He went into the rear entry way to put out the milk bottles and found the place in flames. McEllan aroused all the other inmates of the house, and after seeing them in safety to the street turned in an alarm. The apparatus arrived before the flames could make much headway and the fire was quickly extinguished.

An hour later John Cohn, who, with his wife and five small children, lives on the second floor, detected the odor of smoke in the rear entryway of his part of the house. He investigated and found the place on fire. He called to McEllan and the inmates of the building were again hustled out. Once more the flames were put out before much damage could be done.

The fireman state that from the way the smoke formed oil must have been sprinkled on the flooring and the walls. Evidences of straw being carried into the entry ways were also found. The first floor is vacant.

The incendiary fire last night and the attempt to destroy the Murphy number yard the previous night have caused the police to believe that a desperate firebug is at work in South Boston.

AN EARLY OPENING

HALIFAX, N. S., May 19.—The earliest opening of the straits of Belle Island on record was denoted yesterday when the steamer Manchester Mariner, bound from Montreal to Manchester, clipped many miles off her journey by cutting through the straits. In previous years no vessel has attempted the northern passage until late in June and sometimes the first week in July. Reports have been received of late that the straits were clear of ice and yesterday a wireless message from the station at Point Arthur told of the Manchester Mariner safely making the passage.

FINDS HER FATHER

Daughter Leads Rescuing Party to Woods

CAMMEL, Penn., May 19.—The story of a remarkable vision, which resulted in the discovery of aged Henry Zink, who was lost for three days and as many nights, comes from the Black Forest at a point near the Inter-States of Lycoming and Potter counties. Mr. Zink, who is almost 80, but quite vigorous for that age, was engaged to watch and salt a drove of 20 steers that had been turned into the slashings and wild lands for their summer grazing.

It was the business of the old man to go out every day and see that the cattle were taken to sections where the young grass is plentiful and to see also that at least once a day they were driven to a stream. These two things accomplished, his day's work was done. He was usually home before the noon hour.

When he failed to return, his daughter, Mrs. Henry Miller, with whom he lives, did not become alarmed at his absence until midnight. The night his son-in-law and four other men, dividing into two squads, with flashlights made of pitch pine, scoured the woods and swamps for the old man, but daylight came and, though the men had covered a large area of territory, but one sign of where Mr. Zink had been was found. One of the men discovered in a lonely spot the sack in which he carried salt the morning on which he left home.

His alarmed daughter, on arriving home, worn out with anxiety, fell into a sleep from which she did not awaken until 4 o'clock in the morning. She declared that she had seen her father in her sleep, and that he was lying under a ledge of rock, helpless, though his eyes were open. She insisted that her husband accompany her to the place where the old man lay.

Believing that his wife had gone insane, Miller went with her. She followed an old log road for nearly two miles, and suddenly plunging into the thicket, headed directly for a ravine along one side of which is a high precipice. Under a section of this overhanging ledge lay the old man, helpless from an attack of paralysis. He could make them understand only in whispers, and they got him home.

Why You Should Drink Hires

Because it is pure, wholesome and clean. Every ingredient is chosen with the sole aim of deserving your confidence.

Because its inventor, a practicing and practical chemist, chose for his formula the best in Nature—believing success deserving only when founded on giving equal value to those whose patronage has made his labors productive.

Because the formula—created in those good old days before chemistry had invented the artificial and the substitute—has never changed a single iota. Hires, the same yesterday, to-day and forevermore.

Because Hires has honestly proven its pre-eminent right to quench your thirst, refresh and do you good, having conferred a like service upon millions of thirsts before yours. Hires aids digestion and relieves indigestion. But it contains no trace of drugs or irritants, such as soap bark, etc.

But don't ask for rootbeer—ask for "Hires" and thus be sure to get the only genuine rootbeer.

The members of the Holy Family sodality of St. Joseph's parish to the number of 200 will march to Notre-Dame de Lourdes church next Sunday, and receive communion there in a body at 7.30 o'clock. Rev. Fr. Bernache, O. M. I., their chaplain, will lead the men, who will march from St. Joseph's church to Notre-Dame de Lourdes church. At the station, the men of the Sacred Heart league of the latter church, 100 in number, will meet the visitors and escort them to the church, bearing flags and banners. The C. M. A. C. had a similar pilgrimage last year, and other societies from other local French Catholic churches have been invited by Rev. Fr. Bernache, O. M. I., the rector, to do the same. It is the rector's plan to make the church one of local pilgrimages and of special devotion to Notre-Dame de Lourdes.

SUN BUILDING, MERRIMACK SQUARE, LOWELL, MASS.

Member of the Associated Press

THREE DOLLARS PER YEAR. TWENTY-FIVE CENTS PER MONTH

The sworn daily average circulation of The Lowell Sun for the year 1909 was

16,828

Sworn to by John H. Harrington, proprietor, Martin H. Reidy, business manager, and Alfred Pilotte, pressman, of The Sun, before me, January 1, 1910. J. JOSEPH HENNESSY, Notary Public.

This is by far the largest average circulation of any newspaper in Lowell.

FOR A SANER FOURTH.

The legislature seems disposed to pass the bill providing for a saner Fourth of July. Everybody wants the national holiday observed with less danger and with less noise. The former affects the people who celebrate, the latter those who remain in their homes. It is a torture to the sick, the aged and the nervous as well as to the very young children. If the legislature passes the bill providing for the elimination of dangerous features, it is likely that it will be effectually enforced as there is a strong sentiment in favor of such a law.

NEW AUTO FACTORY COMING.

The Board of Trade finds an automobile company anxious to secure a location for a factory in this city. We have a great many excellent locations. Lowell, too, is a great city for automobiles. It seems as if the craze is spreading rapidly. It must have taken deep root in Lowell when it is not an uncommon thing for men to sell their houses in order to secure automobiles. These, of course, are extreme cases. The legitimate buyers are increasing every day, and the dealers must be reaping large profits. Already we have a great many garages and another fine one is to be located at the corner of East Merrimack and Stackpole streets. Let us keep up the reputation of Lowell as an auto racing centre and we may ultimately have several factories here.

EXTORTIONS THAT SHOULD BE STOPPED.

The Board of Charity touched upon a question of great importance in exposing the workings of the money-lending system that makes a poor man pay $9 for $3 loaned and $25 for $10 loaned. This is nothing more or less than a system of manufacturing paupers, and it should be suppressed in some way. If pawnbrokers are the offenders in such cases they should lose their licenses on being found guilty of any such extortion. If it be the money lenders other than pawnbrokers, then something should be done to expose their methods of taking advantage of the occasional necessities of wage earners to extort from 200 to 300 per cent for their loans, the time usually never extending over six months. This abuse was effectually suppressed in Boston and there is no reason why the same should not be done here.

TO MUZZLE THE PRESS.

An effort is being made in certain quarters to make it illegal for newspapers to publish reports of prize fights.

Would it not be the more constitutional plan to make prize fights illegal? If the press can be prevented from publishing a true account of what happens at a prize fight, why not also put an interdiction on police court news, divorce news and scandals of every kind.

The fact is, this talk about the alleged injury resulting from the proper publication of certain occurrences is all nonsense. If the publication were forbidden the evils would be greatly multiplied, but according to the assumption of those who would muzzle the press, it is all right to commit crimes if the newspapers say nothing about it.

Already a number of British peers have arranged to attend the Jeffries-Johnson fight and doubtless a number of congressmen and other public officials would also attend if they could rely upon the newspapers not publishing their names. The press would not be free if the news of prize fights could be suppressed. But the constitution says: "Congress shall make no law abridging free speech or the freedom of the press." That should stop any such absurd effort at muzzling the press as is proposed.

TO MAKE THE MERRIMACK NAVIGABLE.

If the Board of Trade can arouse fresh interest in the subject of navigating the Merrimack river from Lowell to the sea, it will have rendered a real service to the city. It seems that the river could easily be made navigable at least below Lowell, if the government appropriated the money. The Merrimack from Lowell to Lawrence is deeper and wider than from Lawrence to Haverhill, while from the latter city to the sea it is in fairly good condition for ordinary vessels.

The government expends vast sums upon the widening and deepening of rivers and harbors in different parts of the country. Why not spend a portion of this money for the principal river in New England, the Merrimack? Had our members of congress done their full duty in the past the river might now be navigable from Lowell to the sea.

What would this mean? Lower freight rates on coal and other commodities used in manufacturing. If Lowell could get her coal up the river from tide water the saving from the supply for the entire city would be enormous.

Strange to say there will be found those who will oppose this project for the cheap transportation of coal. They will do it for selfish reasons; but their word or their influence should receive little attention as they are working for their own selfish interest or else as the paid agents of concerns whose aim it is to keep freight rates as high as possible.

The Lowell factories have a permanent bounty from Nature in the water-power furnished by the Merrimack, and if they could purchase coal at a little over tide water prices they could compete against the world. Fall River and New Bedford have little water power, but they have the advantage of low freight rates for coal. Assuming that our annual coal supply for Lowell is 300,000 tons and that 25 cents a ton could be saved by bringing the coal up the river, there would be a clear saving of $125,000 to start with. That saving would soon pay the entire cost of the improvements.

ANOTHER ARREST

Mrs. Taylor Held as Witness in Bill Kellher Case

BOSTON, May 19.—Mrs. Margaret L. Taylor, who was detained at Concord, N. H., today as a witness in the National City bank case, is a young woman who had been friendly with George W. Coleman, the bank's bookkeeper, who yesterday was sentenced to serve 15 years in the Greenfield jail for embezzling $200,000 from the institution. Coleman and Mrs. Taylor attended the same school in Cambridge and were neighbors for some time. Several years ago Mrs. Taylor and her husband separated and a divorce followed. The federal authorities claim that Mrs. Taylor was frequently entertained by Coleman and that she was one of a number of the bookkeeper's friends who visited the bank occasionally. The government officials do not make any charge against the young woman. The desire to know if she can furnish information concerning the relations between William J. Kellher, who is on trial on a charge of aiding Coleman in looting the bank, and the bookkeeper. At the time the bank was closed Mrs. Taylor was in New York.

TWO FIRE ALARMS

Called Out Department Last Night

An alarm from box 232 at 8:50 o'clock last night summoned a portion of the fire department to a lively blaze in the shop of the American Wire Goods Co. in Bridge street opposite Seventh street. The fire started in a pipe which connects the boiler with the brick chimney, but was extinguished before any material damage was done.

Fire in the Pollard House

The members of Engine Co. No. 4 were called to the residence of A. G. Pollard in Magnor street at 8:15 o'clock last night to extinguish a fire which started in the chimney. As much as the evening was raw and damp a fire was started in the fire place and the sparks set fire to the chimney and the fire threatened the house, but the timely arrival of the apparatus prevented a bad blaze.

IN THE CHURCHES

PLEASING ENTERTAINMENTS

HELD IN VESTRIES

"M. Boh" a pleasing little comedy well known to amateur actors in this vicinity, was given last night by the young people of the First Trinitarian Congregational church in the church vestry. The parts were well taken and the play, so full of humor and funny situations, was much enjoyed.

Highland Congregational

"Hunker's P. O." was repeated at the Highland Congregational church last night by the same cast which gave the comedy in Highland hall on the night of May 5. There was a large attendance and the performance was well liked.

PATENTS GRANTED

Among the recent patents of local interest secured through the office of Gardner W. Pearson, Esq., are the following:

Patent on sliding composition for warps to Abel Vornisch and Noel Vornisch. This composition has already gone into extensive use, and is in great demand.

Patent on finishing processes for treating woolen and worsted dress goods to Robert T. Todd and Richard B. Barry. This process and the machine by which it is operated take the place of the slow and unsatisfactory processes of steaming and rubbing. The process is continuous and permits one man to do the work of six with a much more even result.

MORSE LAWYER FAMOUS ACTRESS

Sees Chance to Free His Man Clara Morris is Not Improved

BOSTON, May 19.—A legal technicality brought to light yesterday when George F. Coleman, the self-confessed Cambridge bank wrecker was given a fifteen year prison sentence may be used in an attempt to secure the release of Charles W. Morse, the New York banker and financier, from the federal prison at Atlanta, Ga. Walter Reid, an attorney who represents the Morse interests in this section, was an interested listener at Coleman's trial yesterday and he believes that his client can be discharged from Atlanta on the same grounds that prevented Coleman from being sentenced to the federal institution, namely, that the federal statutes governing such cases do not provide at hard labor in prison while they specify that only prisoners sentenced to hard labor shall be confined at Atlanta.

NEW YORK, May 19.—Clara Morris (Mrs. Frederick C. Harriott) is critically ill at her home in Yonkers. Aside from her physical condition, grave fears are entertained for her eyesight, which has been threatened for the last three months. At her home it was said that the actress has been confined to her bed since March and that she has been gradually sinking. Regarding her eyesight, it was said that she could see only dimly. Several specialists have been attending her.

ISAAC C. WYMAN

Salem Millionaire Passed Away

SALEM, May 19.—Isaac Chauncey Wyman, reputed to be one of the wealthiest men in this section, died at his home on Lafayette street, yesterday morning of diseases incident to old age.

He is thought to have been worth between 20 and 30 million of dollars, the greater part of which is in real estate. His possessions include property in every state in the union, and nearly two-thirds of the real estate in the town of Marblehead, Mass. It was his boast that he could walk from his home in this city, near the Marblehead line, to the other extreme end of the latter town, without stepping a foot from his own land.

Mr. Wyman lived in a small, unpretentious house, with a housekeeper as his only companion. He never married and was considered penurious in the extreme. His only living relative is a Mrs. Susan Dickerson.

He was born in Marblehead, Jan. 21, 1828, and was graduated from Princeton in 1848 with the degree of A. M. He later graduated from Harvard law school. He practiced law in Boston for about 12 years and then went into the real estate business, with headquarters at Marblehead. It was his practice to buy up waste or unimproved land and hold it for increased value.

Mr. Wyman was well known in banking circles in the vicinity of Lynn and Salem and his advice was much sought by men of business.

HELD IN $1000

Men Are Charged With Conspiracy

LAWRENCE, May 19.—Probable cause was found in police court here yesterday afternoon against George Yelland, Timothy Murphy and William Yelland on charges of conspiracy in connection with an alleged wholesale larceny of cloth from the Arlington mills, and they were each bound over to the grand jury, the first two in the sum of $1000 each and the latter in $500.

Sarah Kimmell was sentenced to jail for 30 days for receiving stolen property. Sarah Rosenberg waived arraignment on a charge of receiving from Yelland and Murphy and she was bound over to the grand jury in the sum of $1000.

WOMAN HELD

SHE IS CHARGED WITH ASSAULT ON GIRLS

LYNN, May 19.—For alleged participation in two assaults committed on Tuesday night upon strikebreakers employed at the factory of the Watson Shoe company, where the buttonhole operators have been on strike for some time, Annie Goe, 34 years old, of 4 Oxford street, an operative in another factory, was arrested by Reserve Officer Staples last night.

In addition to facing two charges alleging that she assaulted other girls, Miss Goe will also be charged with disorderly conduct in a public place.

Tuesday night, the strikebreakers were followed from the factory by quite a crowd of strikers and sympathizers. The girls sought refuge in the Sutton street police station and, after the crowd had been dispersed, they quietly left the building by a rear entrance. It was then that the alleged assaults were committed.

LE REVEIL COMPANY

The stockholders of Le Reveil Publishing company, which publishes newspapers in Manchester, Lowell, and Providence, held a meeting on Monday at the Providence office, and voted to sell the entire property. It is possible, the three papers now published in New Hampshire, Massachusetts and Rhode Island will be sold in bulk or in one parcel as the auctioneers say, but unless satisfactory terms are offered they will be sold separately. It is understood that the papers in the three cities will be published regularly until the new owners take possession in order that there may be no break in the business.

Attorney Mederic Gullbault of Manchester, president of the publishing company, presided at Monday's meeting and it is said that there was no material opposition to the suggestion that the affairs of the company be turned over to him. A committee was selected to look after the business, consisting of Mederic Gullbault of Manchester, chairman, Burns P. Hodgman of Concord, and Michel H. Carlier of Providence. Messrs. Hodgman and Carlier are receivers for the New England Investment Co., which held a controlling share of stock in Le Reveil company and Mr. Carlier was general manager of the N. E. I. Co. when it went into the receivers' hands.

BABY WHALE

WAS CAUGHT BY PROVINCE-TOWN FISHERS

PROVINCETOWN, May 19.—The body of an infant found within the fish weir of the Frates crew at South Truro today was yesterday brought to the Consolidated Weir company's wharf, where crowds of spectators quickly gathered. It was the handsomest and healthiest of babies, and one of the biggest as well, it being no less than 12-1-2 feet in length. This infant was of the finback whale variety, the smallest specimen ever captured within a weir, if not the smallest ever caught without the mother in these waters.

Fat, bright colored and without blemish upon that side which lay uppermost as the little whale rested beside the pier, it was pronounced the most perfect specimen. It will be towed out of the harbor and cast adrift this afternoon, as no one cares to expend the time and labor in securing the trifling quantity of oil contained in the blubber.

Frates and crew killed the whale with difficulty. Using a boat gaff, a sledge and oars they beat and banded the lively, if young, creature into unconsciousness after a prolonged fight, during which the men were wetted by spray dashed upon them by the flying

WHAT EVERY MOTHER SHOULD KNOW

It seems strange that so many mothers do not know that when children are sick the first thing to do is to "look for worms first."

It is a fact that worms in stomach or bowels is the cause of three out of every four sick spells in children. There are over fifty different kinds of worms that can live in the stomach or bowels and do great harm to health. If your child is puny, pale, sickly or fretful, follow that wise saying "think of worms first."

Here are some of the many signs by which you may learn that your child has worms. Watch carefully for these symptoms: Swollen eyes, pallor around the nose and lips, dizziness of eyes, itching of nose, bloated face or abdomen, painless, swollen lips, offensive breath. Also choking, swallowing, starting or groaning in sleep, dry cough, bed-wetting, milky urine, vomiting. Child may also be cross and peevish.

You may now give the medicine that kills the worms and casts them forever out of the system. It is "Fessenden's Worm Expeller." The price of it is only 25 cents. For this small sum your child's life may be saved.

ukes-of the frenzied whale, and men who held to the ropes which had been attached to the body were nearly hauled into the sea.

BOSTON DENTIST

Thinks He's Heir to a Great Estate

BOSTON, May 19.—Believing that he and his brother Harry are heirs to a portion of the $120,000,000 Springer estate in Wilmington, Del., Dr. O. M. Springer, a dentist with offices at 55 Chambers street, has sent to his former home in Austria for evidence to prove his claims.

Dr. Springer stated last night that as yet he has but little evidence of his right to a share in the large estate, which covers a large portion of the center of Delaware's largest city, but that he expects the tracing of the records in Austria will prove his claims. Two brothers and a cousin in New York city are also said to be heirs, but Dr. Springer said they also have little proof of their contention.

No other claimants to the estate could be found in this city yesterday, although it is said a meeting of the family will be held in the city soon, preparatory to a fight for the estate. Of this meeting Dr. Springer had no knowledge.

PASTOR AND WIFE

GIVEN ANNUAL RECEPTION AT GORHAM STREET CHURCH

The Gorham Street Methodist church was the scene last evening of the annual reception to the pastor, Rev. N. W. Matthews, and Mrs. Matthews, by the society of the church. It has been customary ever since the society was formed to tender a reception to the pastor and his wife after their return from the annual conference. This was the 14th event in the pastorate of Rev. N. W. Matthews. The exercises last evening opened at 8 o'clock with Thomas Gardiner in the chair.

The pastor and his wife were escorted into the vestry by Ambrose Hinde. Albert Ingdon played a march during the reception.

After the reception the congregation sang "Blest be the Tie That Binds," followed by prayer by Joseph Sutcliffe. Letters of regret were read by the chairman from Rev. B. A. Willmott and Rev. J. W. Jibok.

Rev. C. Fisher of the First Universalist church was introduced, and spoke of the pleasant relationship existing between himself and the pastor. He spoke of the standing that Mr. Matthews held among the pastors of the various churches throughout the city and was very much pleased that he had returned to Lowell for another year.

Joseph Sutcliffe spoke of the conference session in his usual manner.

Mrs. Clogston presented both Mr. and Mrs. Matthews beautiful bouquets from the Ladies' Aid society.

Rev. J. T. Ullom of the Lawrence street church spoke of the good work the pastor is doing in this city.

Charles Philbrick of the Mt. Zion lodge of Good Templars presented the pastor a beautiful basket of flowers from that order.

Rev. Mr. Matthews spoke of the work of the past years and the bright outlook for the future. He also thanked the various societies of the church for the beautiful bouquets.

Mrs. Matthews was called upon and expressed her thanks.

Little Lorraine Leith presented Mr. Matthews a bouquet from the Junior league of the church.

Refreshments were served in the social hall by a committee from the Ladies' Aid, consisting of Mrs. J. T. Norris, chairman, Mrs. William Clogston, Mrs. Thomas Higginbottom, Mrs. Fred Leith, Mrs. J. Bramhall, Mrs. W. Thompson, Mrs. J. A. Fiendel, Mrs. Clegg, Mrs. J. Crab and Mrs. George Chapman.

Ten young men from the Tower class acted as ushers as follows: Messrs. Orrin Taylor, Richard Campbell, Fred Matthews, James Brown, George Bennett, Guy McQuaide, George Higginbottom, Orrin McKenzie, Joseph Maden was chief usher.

THE BIG FIGHT

Will Take Place in 'Frisco

SAN FRANCISCO, May 19.—There is much rejoicing among fight followers over Tex Rickard's announcement last night, that Jeffries and Johnson will battle in this city for the world's heavyweight championship July 4. It has been many years since a 45 round fight was held in San Francisco, owing to the city ordinance which provides for boxing matches of limited duration. This has been construed as 20 rounds, but it is understood no barrier will be raised against an extension of the contest.

Gov. Gillett's widely published view of the situation and the statements coming from District Attorney Fickert are regarded as reassuring. The attorney is quoted thus:

"I have not been apprised that the contest is to be held in this city and I have not considered the matter. The board of supervisors has not granted the promoters a permit yet, but there is a law allowing boxing matches and I cannot see the difference between Jeffries and Johnson fighting and other professional fighters who have been boxing here. However, I will look up the law and abide strictly by the statutes."

Several locations are available for the fight.

MILLS CLOSED

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 19.—Approximately 8000 employees of the American Woolen Co. were thrown out of work last night and today when that company closed its three mills in this city and in Olneyville for the remainder of the week, thereby establishing a three day work week schedule. None of the three mills of the company has been running full time for several months, caused, it is believed, by the lack of orders.

A BATTLE ROYAL

Axe Used in Fight at Waverley

WAVERLEY, May 19.—William Wallace, 40, a street foreman in the town employ, is believed to be dying at his home, 628 Trapello road, as the result of wounds received in a fight which took place in a room in the old town hall in Waverley square late yesterday afternoon.

Two axes, a baseball bat and three empty bottles figured as weapons in the melee, as a result of which all the men bear marks of battle.

John McCloskey and Joseph Chandler of Waverley and Frank McNeal of Watertown, Wallace's companions, were placed under arrest, and are being pending the outcome of Wallace's injuries.

The men, it is said, had been drinking heavily, and none appears to know just what led up to the quarrel which precipitated the fight. In the fracas Wallace was struck over the head with the blunt end of an axe, causing a bad fracture of the skull.

The cries of the men in the little shed attracted Police Officer John

Argy to the scene. He burst in the door, and the fighting ceased as he entered.

COL. ROOSEVELT Called Upon Emperor William Today

LONDON, May 19.—Mr. Roosevelt spent the morning writing and reading. He saw no visitors.

At luncheon at Dorchester house the former president met Lewis Harcourt, first commissioner of works. During the week he has met some forty men distinguished in the public life of Great Britain, including with two or three exceptions, all the members of the cabinet.

This afternoon Mr. Roosevelt called upon Emperor William at Buckingham palace.

"JIM" JEFFRIES

Had an All-day Fishing Excursion

BEN LOMOND, May 19.—Jim Jeffries and his fellow fishermen returned from Santa Cruz last night tired out from their all day fishing excursion on Monterey bay.

Joe Choyinski with Halley's comet as a text is reported to have discoursed learnedly on the elevating subject of astronomy in pursuance of the esthetic uplift movement that he threatened some time ago to inject into Jeffries' training operations.

If Jim were edited by Joe's soaring dissertation he did not let on. His rumored comment was, "Close your van, Joe, you're scaring the fish!"

Bob Armstrong, a sparring partner, has no particular use for comets and he kept his rabbit's foot behind his left ear.

BOARD OF TRADE

Elects John H. Murphy Secretary

---Other Matters

John H. Murphy, the popular and efficient clerk in the supply department at city hall, was elected secretary of the board of trade yesterday afternoon to succeed John A. McKenna, resigned.

The election took place at a meeting of the board of directors, in accordance with the by-laws. Mr. Murphy received 13 votes; Mr. Joseph where he soon so entrenched himself by his ability and hard work that his superiors look upon his resignation with the deepest regret.

Mr. Murphy has been on various civil service lists for some years. He first passed successfully the examinations for the general clerical list, from which he was appointed to his position at city hall. He is at the present time first on the health inspector's list, first on the health foreman's list, and second on the water inspector's list. He is also on the state list.

Of genial disposition, with much personal magnetism and a host of friends, Mr. Murphy has always been interested in fraternal affairs. He is at the present time a lecturer of the Knights of Columbus, and is an ex-president of the C. Y. M. L., and the Franklin D. Dealing club. He is also a member of the Holy Name society of St. Patrick's church.

Mr. Murphy is married and has one daughter. He makes his home at 118 St. Washington street.

After the election the meeting took up the regular business before it. A letter was read from an automobile concern, manufacturing commercial automobiles, asking what facilities could be offered in Lowell for a plant employing 500 men or more. This was referred to the committee on new industries.

A telephone message was received yesterday from Col. Edward Burr of the United States coast survey, saying that he would arrive in Lowell on Saturday morning to consult with the board of trade and business men concerning the use of the Merrimack river as a waterway for transportation from the sea.

The directors voted to ask the committee on transportation of which F. C. Garrett is the chairman, to meet Col. Burr and see that he obtained all the information he wished and, incidentally, get from him all the information they could as to the feasibility of making the Merrimack river navigable. In this matter the cities along the Merrimack are making a concerted campaign and some progress has already been made.

Surveys have been made of parts of the river. It has been stated in Washington that the deepening of the river from Lowell to the sea is feasible and would be valuable. To foster this idea the commercial bodies of the cities in the Merrimack valley are working. Col. Burr will be the guest of the board of trade here on Saturday. Vice President James O'Sullivan will be acting president on that day and a number of business men are to be asked to join the committee in the day's discussions and suggestions.

The new members admitted at the meeting were Paul B. Weston, Arthur L. Holbrook, William S. Currier and Regan and Kerwin.

SUPREME COURT

Decides in Favor of the Town of Nahant

BOSTON, May 19.—The inhabitants of the town of Nahant win in the suit brought against them by Frederick R. Sears and other executors under the will of the late Frederick R. Sears, for an abatement of the $14,000 tax levied by the town on personal property valued at $1,000,000. An opinion yesterday by the full bench of the supreme court upholds the judgment of Justice Crosby of the superior court, who dismissed the executor's petition.

The assessment was objected to as excessive, disproportionate and illegal. Application was first made to the Nahant assessors for an abatement, but they declined to lower the figure. The assessors stated, and were later sustained in their assertion by the superior court, that a list of property which should have been furnished them under the statutes was not given seasonably, and that they had to make their assessment on such information as they had at hand.

The superior court found that the town and the assessors acted in good faith and that the executors had not shown a reasonable excuse for their delay in presenting the list.

GERMAN KAISER

Arrived in London at Noon Today

LONDON, May 19.—Emperor William arrived in London at noon today. The German imperial yacht Hohenzollern reached Sheerness last evening, but his majesty did not land until this morning, when he proceeded to the capital. The greeting of King George and the emperor was most affectionate. As the emperor and king drove to Buckingham palace great crowds in the streets exhibited a lively interest in the German ruler.

The men raised their hats and the women waved their handkerchiefs as the royal carriage passed. Arriving at the palace the emperor was taken at once to the apartments of the queen mother, Alexandra.

ENNETER, N. H., May 19.—Joseph Seeley, a well known resident of Newfields, committed suicide by hanging today. He had been melancholy for long time and had often threatened to end his life. Today he went out of the house after breakfast and hanged himself to an apple tree near the kitchen door. He was 56 years old. A widow and four survive him.

FACULTY SHAKE-UP

WOLFVILLE, N. S., May 19.—A shake-up in the faculty of Acadia university is to be made during the next college year by Dr. George Barton Cutton, the new president of the institution, who has just returned from the United States, where he has been looking for new faculty "timber." Among the men to be appointed is a Yale graduate, who will act as athletic instructor. President Cutton is a graduate of Yale and for a time played on the varsity football team there.

PEACE CONFERENCE

MOHONK LAKE, N. Y., May 19.—The international judicial arbitration court was the topic assigned for discussion at the peace conference today. Simon E. Baldwin former chief justice of the supreme court of Connecticut, led the speaking. He pointed out some of the faults of the present court of nations set up at the first Hague conference and expressed a hope that the proposition to make the judges of the international prize court ex-officio judges of the court of arbitral justice, which was endorsed by this government last year, would receive general endorsement.

H. B. MacFarland of Washington, former commissioner of the District of Columbia, declared that this proposition favored by Secretary Knox in a circular note to the powers last October would be adopted and that its success would in after years be considered the greatest achievement of the Taft administration.

HALLEY'S COMET

tonight. If the moon which most astronomers regard as a nuisance were not near its greatest brilliancy the view of the comet during the next week would be much finer. Again, if the tail has not decreased in length the end of it will not set until after midnight so that while the head will disappear or follow half an hour after the sun below the western horizon the tail will continue to stream upward for several hours. It is expected that the tail will show a distinct inclination instead of pointing straight to the zenith.

What astronomers want mostly is a clear, black night and such conditions cannot be hoped for until next week, or after the full moon.

WILL NOT PASS THROUGH TAIL

SAN JOSE, Cal., May 19.—According to Dr. Campbell of Lick Observatory the earth may not pass through the comet's tail after all. He said early today: "The tail was visible as soon as the moon set. It is probable that we shall miss passing through the tail tonight because it is lagging by several million miles. The comet's orbit is inclined to an angle with the earth's orbit and it is probable we shall not pass through the tail at all."

OBSERVATIONS AT PRINCETON

PRINCETON, N. J., May 19.—The earth did not plunge through the tail of Halley's comet at the time scheduled by astronomers, according to Prof. Henry Norris Russell of Princeton and Zacheus Daniel the discoverer of three comets but was several hours late in making the journey. This failure of the comet to be on time, they said today, was due to the fact that the tail had developed a pronounced curve and it was long after sun-up in this section of the country before the passage of the earth through the comet's appendage.

Prof. Lowell at 2:45 a. m. noted a distinct streak of light in the east that resembled the milky way. At the time he said the head of the comet had passed the disc of the sun and was well on the other side of the sun. Shortly after 3 a. m. the light in the east disappeared and Prof. Russell said it was possible for the inhabitants of Hawaii and possibly the astronomers at the Lick Observatory in California to detect in the darkness the passage of the earth through the tail.

Prof. Russell added that the reason why most astronomers had not been able to tell that the tail was curved was because they had been looking at the tail edge-wise.

Mr. Daniel who also noticed the light in the east shortly before 3 a. m. expressed the belief that the passage of the earth through the tail would make the curve more pronounced. The time at which the earth made the passage, he said, could not be ascertained at Princeton because the arc of the curve was not known there.

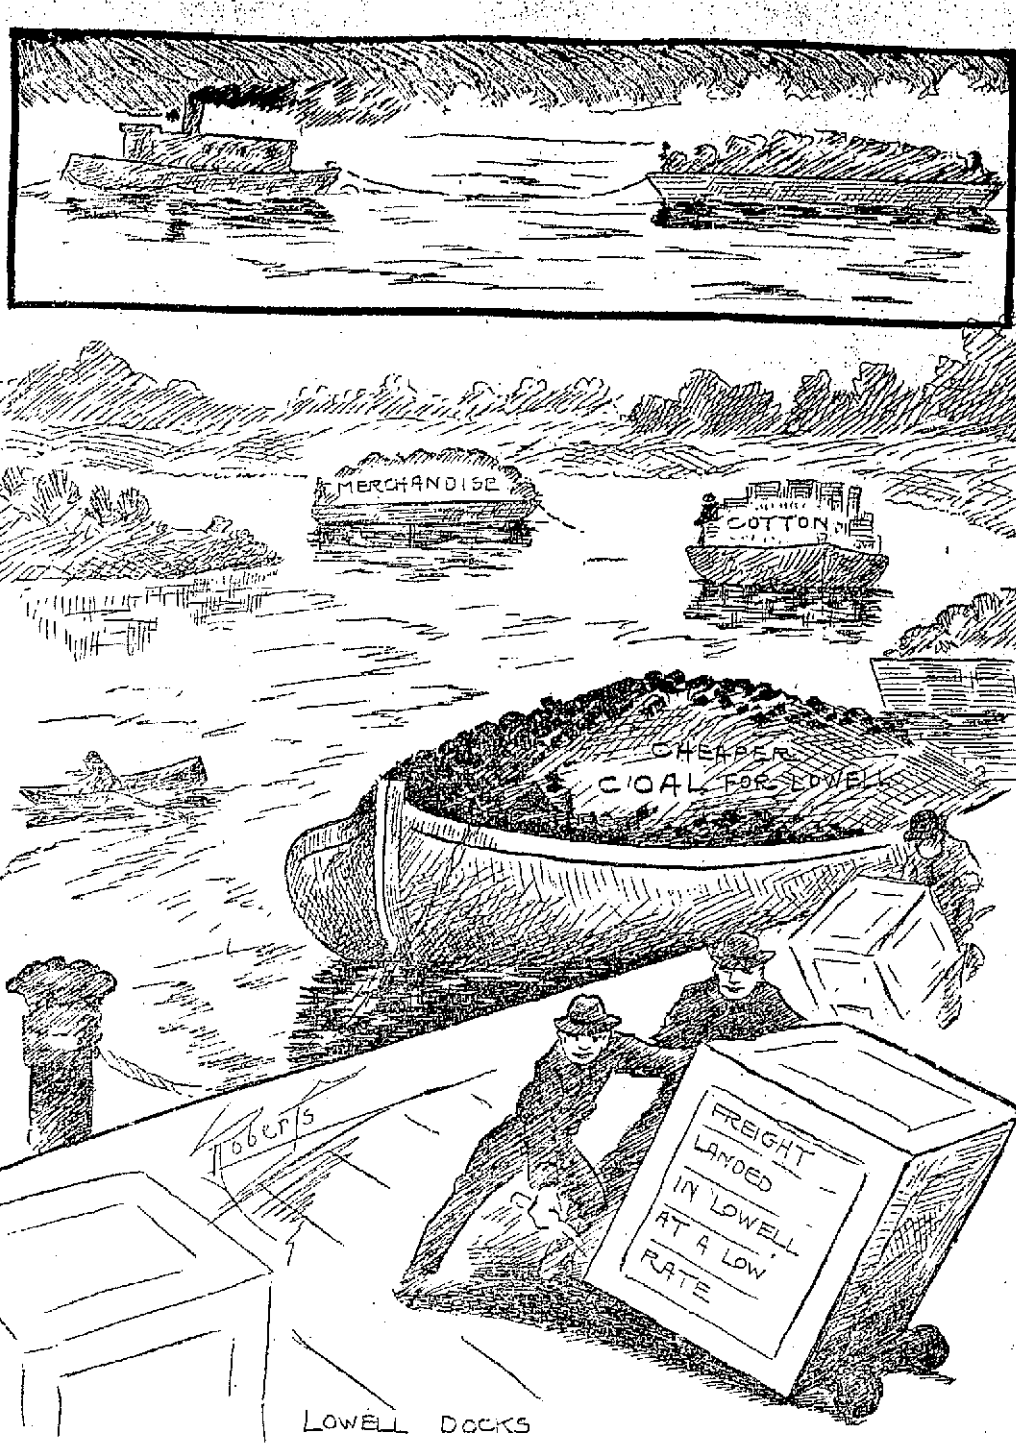

Mr. Daniel explained that it was not unusual for comet tails to be curved and said that the comet of January, 1910, had a distinct curved tail.

WIRES NOT DISTURBED

CHICAGO, May 19.—Commercial telegraph companies feared the passage of the earth through the comet's tail would have an effect upon their wires similar to that of the aurora borealis, which is responsible for ground currents, making the transmission of despatches impossible. No disturbances were reported, however, except a slight interference which was felt on the wires of one company between Vancouver and Regina in Alberta. Even this was not believed to be attributable to the comet as auroral displays in the far north are not unusual at this season of the year. None of the wireless companies reported interference with the transmission of despatches.

AT JOHANNESBURG

JOHANNESBURG, May 19.—According to the observations made at the Transvaal observatory of which R.

IF THE MERRIMACK WAS NAVIGABLE TO THE SEA

T. A. Innes is the director, the earth had not traversed the tail of Halley's comet at dawn today. The tail was still north of the ecliptic and at the observatory it was thought probable that the earth would pass considerably to the south of it.

NO GLIMPSE OF COMET

BOSTON, May 19.—Officials at Harvard observatory did not obtain a single glimpse of Halley's comet last night or early today and were unable to definitely state today whether or not the earth had passed through the tail of the rapidly moving visitor of the skies. It was admitted that the bright moonlight may have shut out the view of an illumination from the comet's tail and some of the observers said that the earth had probably passed through the tail without it becoming apparent. The presence of cyanogen gas, they said, could not be determined until reports could be received from Harvard's astronomical station at Arcigna, Peru, where special attention was to be given the gas. No effects of the comet were felt on wireless telegraph instruments in this vicinity.

PROF. HALL'S VIEWS

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Professor Asap Hall of the naval observatory said at 4 o'clock this morning that the earth would not pass through the tail of Halley's comet until some time today. From 2 o'clock this morning until dawn, said Prof. Hall, there was visible in the east extending from the northeast in a southerly direction the dim beam of a light of the comet tail. As the moon descended westward the light shrank and the beam grew plainer and was easily visible to the naked eye.

GOT PHOTOGRAPHS

YERKES OBSERVATORY, Williams Bay, Wis., May 19.—As the earth passed through the tail of Halley's comet, astronomers at the Yerkes observatory last night obtained photographs and accurate records of meteoric phenomena and varying heavenly illumination under atmospheric conditions nearly perfect for work with camera and telescope. The pictures and data are said to be of unusual value and may develop scientific information and theories of unexpected importance.

Prof. Edward E. Barnard, an authority on comets, was much pleased with the result of his observations, which extended over 48 hours, almost without interruption.

"The passing of the comet," said Prof. Barnard, "will greatly enrich science. I consider the negative phenomena observed tonight as of as great value to science as positive phenomena."

According to first computations from observations made here, the earth entered the million mile breadth of tail at a combined speed of earth and tail of slightly more than forty-six miles a second. At this rate the assembled scientists agreed that the passage would occupy a period of little more than five hours.

SPOTS ON THE SUN

CAMBRIDGE, May 19.—A sudden opening of the clouds into yesterday revealed to one of the astronomers on watch at the Harvard observatory "spots" on the sun. The telescope was adjusted, but before an observation could be made the clouds closed in and the sun was not again visible during the day.

REFUSED TO WORK

WILKESBARRE, Pa., May 19.—A large number of miners employed by the Lehigh Valley Coal Co. near Avoca, refused to go to work yesterday, fearing that Halley's comet might strike the earth and bring the lives of all to an end.

AT HARVARD OBSERVATORY

CAMBRIDGE, May 19.—Nightly observations of Halley's comet, made at Harvard observatory since September 1, have resulted in the collection by Prof. A. C. Wendell and Leon Campbell of the observatory staff of data from which the observatory experts may be able to formulate a scientific law as to the brightness of comets in relation to their distance from the earth. It was announced last night.

While a number of students and professors with which the skies all night, the observatory authorities said last night that they do not expect anything unusual. The comet itself is below the horizon and with the exception of its tail, visible now only in Orion.

The darkness of the atmosphere and the brilliancy of the moon last night made observation of the tail almost impossible.

Observations of the comet's transit, however, will be made in the Orient by American astronomers, expeditions having been sent to Honolulu and to the Sandwich Islands.

DR. JACOBY'S VIEWS

NEW YORK, May 19.—"If the earth did not pass through the tail of the comet last night—and I see some observers fortunately situated doubt that it did—I do not believe we will pass through it at all," said Dr. Harold Jacoby, Rutherford professor of astronomy of Columbia university today. "We may look for the comet now in the western skies in the evening with the possibility of seeing a bit of it tonight, the probability of getting a good view of it tomorrow evening and the practical certainty that by Saturday night, providing clear atmospheric conditions prevail, it will be a brilliant spectacle in the west after sunset."

anything in the theory which has been advanced that the earth's repulsive force would tend to push away the cometary appendage and that the curvature of the tail noted by observers a few days ago might have been increased so that the earth would miss the luminous haze altogether.

TAIL OF COMET VISIBLE
WILLIAMS BAY, Wis., May 19.—Setting at variance all scientific predictions and dumbfounding the astronomers at Yerkes observatory here, the tail of Halley's comet was plainly visible in the east just before daybreak today. Professors Barnard and Frost declared, therefore, that the earth has not passed through the tail of the comet, as had been believed. Both agreed that the earth has entered the comet's tail but are unable to explain the conditions now prevailing which are without parallel in the history of astronomy.

WOMAN MAY DIE To Be Donated to the City of Lowell

Traces of Terrible Struggle in Danvers Home

That a well known and public spirited citizen will, within a short time, give to the city of Lowell a large tract of land for park and playground purposes is quietly whispered today.

The Sun learns from good authority that the story is true and that within the near future a most valuable tract of land will be donated to the city for park purposes. Colonel Robert Ames to be Placed on Trial

MANILA, May 18.—Upon instructions from Washington, Lieut. Col. Robert F. Ames was yesterday confined to quarters and will be court-martialed on charges of conduct unbecoming an officer and to the prejudice of military discipline.

The action against the officer is a sequel to the investigation of the circumstances which led Lieut. Clarence M. Janney of the 13th Infantry, U. S. A., to take his life following a dinner party at the home of Ames at Fort William McKinley. The suicide's wife remains at the fort, and will probably be the chief witness at the court-martial.

A Filipino coroner and an army board of inquiry found that Janney committed suicide and so reported to Maj. Gen. Wm. H. Carter. After examining the findings the general returned them to the board with instructions that it obtain additional testimony covering certain features of the case.

Janney's death occurred on the night of March 12 last. On that evening Janney and his wife attended a dinner given by Ames, Captain William H. Jordan, Jr., also of the Twelfth infantry, completed the party.

According to the testimony of the witness, Janney and his wife quarreled during the evening about a champagne cooler which Mrs. Janney had given to Ames.

A little later Janney left the house, returning soon with a revolver with which it was testified he shot himself either through design or accident in the presence of his wife and Colonel Ames.

Following the shooting Ames was placed under arrest, but a preliminary investigation of the special board of inquiry having cleared him he was released.

The Janneys were married in New York in 1908. She was born Madeline McKissick and belonged to a prominent family of San Francisco. She first married Dr. Feder Brugiere, whom she divorced upon grounds of failing to provide for her. When she married Janney he was stationed at Governor's Island. He went with the Twelfth regiment to the Philippines in July, 1909.

KELIHER ON TRIAL

Charged With Aiding to Loot a Cambridge Bank

BOSTON, May 19.—In its efforts to convict William J. Keliher, a strapping young man of leisure, commonly known as "Big Bill" Keliher, of aiding and abetting George W. Coleman in looting the National City bank of Cambridge of $399,000, the government at the opening of the case today explained that Keliher so dominated Coleman that the latter could not resist numerous inducements to "back the tiger" in New York despite the fact that losses were continuous.

According to Assistant District Attorney Garland, who made the opening address today, Coleman began stealing from the bank in 1906, and took $20,000 in a year in a vain effort to win at "Jack." Then came a year and a half of virtue, but in May, 1909, Coleman met Keliher and once more listened to the tempting words of great winnings gained quickly. From that time until February of the present year the assets of the bank were transferred in $5000 and $10,000 lots to the gamblers in New York, always with the cry that just one more play would be sufficient to make up all losses.

Mr. Garland declared that Keliher personally advised the taking of the bank's money and was the tempter throughout.

In fact, when Coleman cried "enough," said Mr. Garland, Keliher gave him $100 to get out of the city and paid his hotel bill here. Coleman went to Kansas City with Miss High-tower, his sweetheart, and was there when the storm that followed Mr. Garland said that Keliher made every effort to settle with Coleman in order to hush his (Keliher's) connection with the case. The government then called four witnesses, all bank officials.

Mrs. Taylor left her accompanied by government secret service agents on the train due in Boston this afternoon. The fact that Mrs. Taylor was in this city was accidentally discovered. It is said, by a member of the local police force, who overheard a conversation in which she was engaged a few days ago at a boarding house where she had been staying. At that place she had been known as Mrs. Wilson.

Mrs. Taylor, when her identity was learned, made no objection to returning to Boston. She intimated that she had come here because she did not want to be called a witness in the trial of Coleman, but that she was willing to testify in the Keliher and Lockhart cases.

WANTS $10,000 ALIMONY

NEW YORK, May 19.—Mrs. Fay L. Tysen asked Supreme Court Justice Erlanger yesterday to grant her $10,000 a year alimony and $5000 counsel fee pending trial of the suit brought by her husband, Robert F. Tysen, to annul the marriage on the ground that she had not obtained a valid divorce before she married him. She says he is worth $2,000,000. Counsel for Tysen opposed granting alimony because the case is to be tried today. He said that Tysen gave his wife $42,000 two years ago and that she has $12,000 left, which ought to tide her over until the case is disposed of. The court reserved decision.

In Cotton Mills in New England

BOSTON, May 19.—A further slackening up in New England cotton mill machinery has been decided upon, and during the summer and fall months a heavy curtailment of production is looked for. Many of the corporations which have their head offices in Boston will shut down from 25 to 33-1-3 per cent. during the next few months. It is announced, or until the new cotton crop is available. Next week numerous mills will be stopped for a few days and in the following week others will be idle. The Amoskeag corporation will shut down all its cotton mills in Manchester, N. H., next Thursday until June 1. The company, which is the largest cotton concern in the world, employs 15,500 operatives. In Fall River twenty or more corporations employing 15,000 hands will shut down May 27 or 28 until June 6.

SUIT FOR $50,000

Allegation of Affections is Alleged

NEW YORK, May 19.—A suit to recover $50,000 for the alleged alienation of her husband's affections was filed today in the United States circuit court by Mrs. Jean I. Mackey Glidden, wife of Dr. Putnam Glidden of Los Angeles vs. Mrs. Gladys L. Lamberon Woodward of this city.

The complaint states that Mr. and Mrs. Glidden were married here on February 24, 1894, and that they lived together happily until the summer of 1908, when Mrs. Glidden was called to Mount Carroll, Ill., by the serious illness of her mother. Then Glidden went to Monterey, Cal., on business. Mrs. Woodward, who was then in Monterey, was there when the complaint was filed. It is charged that the pair traveled about together and lived in "unlawful and wrongful intercourse" in San Francisco and elsewhere.

Mrs. Glidden states that her husband has refused to live with her since he met Mrs. Woodward.

Arthur C. Bostwick of 15 William street is counsel for the plaintiff, and Horwitz & Wiener of 316 Broadway for the defendant.

PRESBYTERIAN ASSEMBLY

ATLANTIC CITY, May 19.—"I cannot be a pessimist while God is in His heaven, but I declare to you that, discredited the muckrakers and the mock reformers as we will, 'the times are out of joint,'" said the Rev. Dr. James B. B. of Detroit today in his sermon opening the 122nd general assembly of the Presbyterian church here.

"Twin sins that threaten the very existence of this Christian nation are the vulgar race for gain and the rotting sin of social vices."

"But back as is the inordinate passion for wealth and its attendant evils. It is white and wholesome as compared to that social sin that runs so often in the wake of wealth and luxury. Ravages of tuberculosis and typhoid fever are as mere side issues to those terrible sicknesses that are the result of this shameful and secret sin."

CLEVER RESCUE

YONKERS, May 19.—While a number of youths and men stood by hesitating, William Scholmeyer, 15 years old, of 228 Riverside avenue, plunged into the Hudson river from the dock at Ludlow yesterday and saved John Varhola, aged 9, of 50 Clinton street. Varhola was sinking when Scholmeyer reached him and he grasped his rescuer by the arms and both went down. Scholmeyer released himself and after getting breath he dived and brought the boy to the surface. A party of fishermen in a rowboat rescued both boys. Varhola was in a serious condition for several hours, but he will recover. This is young Scholmeyer's fourth rescue of the kind.

GIRL WAS SHOT

SHE WAS STRUCK BY A STRAY BULLET

NEW YORK, May 19.—Two Italians ran through 11th street between First and Second avenue last night, shooting at each other. By the time each had emptied his revolver a bullet penetrated the spine of a young girl, Christina Mastroianni, of 317 East 11th street, who was crossing the street with her little sister and didn't know why all the big folks were running for cover.

When the marksmen saw the little girl fall they forgot their duel and disappeared in opposite directions on First avenue. The child was taken to Harlem hospital, where she died.

McDONALD ARRESTED

BOSTON, May 19.—George McDonald, of East Brookfield, was arrested today on a charge of attempting to cash a check drawn on the National Shawmut bank for $100 and made to his order by Cornelius McGillicuddy, which signature is claimed to be forged.

MONEY STOLEN

OIL CITY, Pa., May 19.—Three packages of money containing $25,024.74 were stolen from the Pennsylvania depot here at 5:30 this morning by John J. Truby, the station agent, was loading baggage onto a Buffalo-bound train. The money was being shipped by the Adams Express Co. to Philadelphia.

NEW YORK, May 19.—Miss M. Louise Davis, a teacher of Orange, N. J., who recently umpired a game of baseball between boys of her class and a team from another school, has added to her laurels with a display of prowess "at the points."

In spite of the gallery which assembled to watch her, Miss Davis stuck to that post throughout the game and she was not out of her class. Miss Davis gave them many good pointers, but they were outclassed by the other team, which is of larger boys.

Mayor White of Lawrence and Other Officials Arrested

LAWRENCE, May 19.—Expressions of great surprise following the arrest last night of Mayor White, his private secretary, Matthew Degrey Ripon, Jas. A. Hamilton, chief engineer of the fire department, and eight other prominent politicians, continue to be heard today throughout the city.

Mayor White declared that his arrest was an outrage. "I am innocent," he said, "and I will prove it."

The eleven arrests occurred last night following the action of the Essex county grand jury in Newburyport yesterday, when twelve secret indictments were returned. It was said that other arrests would be made today. All the men arrested who were immediately released on bail, were given a hearing at Newburyport today.

COURT INDICTMENT RETURNED

LAWRENCE, May 19.—Twelve secret indictments in connection with the local municipal "graft" investigation were returned by the Essex county grand jury at Newburyport yesterday afternoon, and last night between three and four hours were consumed by members of the local police force in serving capias upon those against whom charges had been brought.

The list included Mayor William P. White, Chief Engineer James A. Hamilton of the fire department; Matthew Burns and Xavier Legendre, members of last year's board of aldermen; Matthew Degrey Ripon, Mayor White's private secretary; John J. Cummings, a liquor dealer; Thomas A. Keegan, a plasterer; William H. Molson, a real estate and insurance agent; Fred Koschitzky, a drug clerk; George B. Smart, a master plumber; and Ernest Dube. The remaining one is said to be out of the city, and as is customary, the indictment against him was withheld.

Bribery, conspiracy to bribe and la-sony are included in the charges, it is said.

White notified by "Phone" State Police Officer Fred E. Flynn was given the capias after the secret indictments were reported by the jury and he came to the city and the cooperation of the police department was given in serving them.

Mayor White and Sec. Ripon were notified by telephone by City Marshal Fox. Capt. Sullivan of the night patrol reached others, while in two instances patrolmen served the papers.

Some of the men indicted had already ranged for their bondmen before reaching the station.

In the case of all except Ripon and Cummings the bail was fixed at $2500. The two named were ordered to recognize in $500 each.

Charge Against Mayor

Mayor White was charged with conspiracy to bribe, although there are understood to be several counts included in the indictment. A similar charge is brought against Burns, Smart, Dube and Koschitzky. Legendre is charged with requesting a bribe, Hamilton, Keegan and Molson with bribery and Cummings and Ripon with larceny.

John Daly, Jr., and Thomas E. McDonnell became sureties for Mayor White, ex-Mayor James R. Simpson for Chief Hamilton, ex-Supt. of Streets John C. Neenan for ex-Aldermen Burns and Legendre, and City Marshal Richard H. Fox for Sec. Ripon. The others were also bailed. They are directed to appear in court today in Newburyport.

Cause of Indictments

Most of the indictments, it is alleged, had to do with the appointment of Chief Engineer Hamilton as head of the fire department and the subsequent alleged attempt to oust him. The charge against the chief himself and Ex-Aldermen Burns was said to be in connection with both features of the case.

Mayor White's part was in the alleged effort to depose Hamilton and Thomas A. Keegan, George B. Smart, Fred Koschitzky and Ernest Dube were similarly associated, according to the jury's finding. William H. Molson, it is alleged, was a party to the selection of the chief for the fire department head.

Cummings is charged with larceny of a quantity of confiscated liquor from a police station and a like charge is brought against Ripon in connection with a charge of automobile hire against the Fourth of July celebration fund of last year.

Ex-Alderman Legendre is charged with having sought a bribe for his endorsement of a trolley express franchise.

Alleged Attempt to Bribe

The return of the indictments shook the city to the very foundations. The investigation had its inception early in the year as a result of the alleged attempt to oust Chief Engineer Hamilton. Ex-Alderman Legendre claimed that an effort had been made to have him vote in favor of the removal of the chief, $1000 being offered as an inducement.

This report was made to the chief by the ex-alderman, the former said, and Hamilton urged that it be taken up by Dist. Atty. Peters.

Finally, after the grand jury had completed its work for the January term of court, the members were called together in special session in this city. A couple of weeks were spent in the investigation, a score or more witnesses being summoned.

Various other reports of alleged graft were inquired into, the naming of new members of the fire department and the installation of a new fire alarm system being included in the investigation besides the matters covered by the indictments returned yesterday. The jury adjourned until the present term without announcing its findings.

As Mayor White was leaving the clerk of court's office with his bondmen he greeted the newspaper men with the remark: "Be down in court tomorrow if you want to hear the greatest plea you ever listened to."

STOCK MARKET

CLOSED RATHER HEAVY THIS AFTERNOON

Postponement of the C. & O. Dividend Was Felt—There Was a Slight Reaction in the Market

NEW YORK, May 19.—Execution of the sprinkling of buying orders when the stock market opened moved prices upwards. The advance was partly in sympathy with the higher range of quotations in London. Canadian Pacific gained 2 1/8 and Reading, Southern Pacific, Wabash pf., Interborough Metropolitan pf., Amalgamated Copper and National Lead, large fractions.

An extension of the opening advance carried a handful of the leading stocks up a point or more above yesterday's closing, including Union Pacific, Reading, Southern Pacific and Amalgamated Copper. Buying then slackened but the prices were well held.

A large proportion of the total dealings was in Reading and that stock's advance was the principal influence in pulling up prices elsewhere. The market was still almost wholly in traders' hands. Reading's gain reached two points. Bonds were irregular.

Although the undertone of the market continued strong, the demand of the market was so scanty that transactions during the noon hour barely reached 15,000 shares. Northern Pacific and Louisville & Nashville improved a point.

The speculation was practically lifeless and fluctuations were insignificant. The market closed heavy. Postponement of the Ches. & Ohio dividend meeting made the market heavy and caused a slight reaction.

100 WOUNDED

By the Explosion Near Havana

HAVANA, May 19.—Until the ruins have been more thoroughly examined it will not be known positively how many lives were lost when the rural guards barracks in the city of Pinar Del Rio was demolished by an explosion of dynamite late today. There is reason, however, for the hope that the fatalities did not exceed fifty. The wounded will number more than 100 others, it is believed. Investigation today developed no good grounds for the suspicion that the disaster was planned by conspirators against the government. It is almost certain that the explosion resulted from the accidental fall of a case of dynamite from the hands of an employee of the public works department, who, with others, was engaged in loading upon wagons 25 cases of the explosive which was to be transferred from the barracks to the government magazine in this city.

Many injured ones are believed to be still pinned under the debris. The work of extricating the victims was continued throughout the night by torchlight.

The quantity of dynamite exploded was nearly three tons. The buildings destroyed were massive structures. The government wireless station was shaken to bits. Many of the inhabitants thought that the disaster was caused by the approach of Halley's comet and that it was a precursor of a still greater catastrophe.

THE HEIKE CASE

NEW YORK, May 19.—The government today continued its effort to connect Charles R. Heike, secretary of the American Sugar Refining company with the scheme to cheat the government out of sugar duties by underweighing.

Mr. Stimson, the federal prosecutor, called to the stand Fred Schwerdtfeger, a tallyman employed by the American Sugar Refining company. He was shown the secret steel spring in evidence.

"Did you ever see anything like this before?" asked Mr. Stimson.

"Yes."

"Who had it?"

"We all had it," was the reply.

The witness testified that he had used the spring in 1907 and as far back as 1901. Before that a little bag with lead pellets in it was used, he said. He said Walker gave him a spring. Harry Walker was the assistant dock superintendent, now on trial.

BALLINGER--PINCHOT

Testimony in Case May be All in by Saturday

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Assistant Attorney General Oscar Lawler continued under cross examination by Louis D. Brandeis, counsel for L. R. Glavis at the Ballinger-Pinchot investigation, today. Mr. Lawler already has told the committee that he prepared the memorandum which President Taft had before him when he wrote his letter exonerating Secretary Ballinger and dismissing Glavis, thus contradicting the testimony of the stenographer, Frederick Keroy, to the effect that Mr. Ballinger's office helped to prepare it. Counsel hope to have all the testimony in by next Saturday night in which case argument will begin next week. Anticipating another interesting session, the hearing room in the senate office building was crowded to its limited capacity.

The committee first held an executive session. When the opening hearing had been completed, the clerk to read a letter from Secretary Ballinger, in which the latter stated that in response to the verbal request of the committee, his assistant, Mr. Pinney, had gone through his personal and confidential file index in an effort to locate any letters not already made public by Mr. McGillicuddy and George W. Perkins of J. P. Morgan & Co. Mr. Ballinger wrote that Mr. Pinney had found nine letters between himself and Perkins regarding the naming of two glaciers and a fjord which Perkins thought he had discovered while on a trip to Alaska last summer. No other letter had been found. Chairman Nelson announced that the committee had decided that the letters were not of such importance as to warrant their being made public. Mr. Brandeis inquired the date of the letters and was informed that the first from Perkins was dated Dec. 20, 1909, and the others were written subsequently. Mr. Brandeis explained that he wished to locate two other letters from Perkins to Ballinger, one dated June 18, 1909, and the other written some time in September last. The

LOSS IS $70,000

A Disastrous Fire Broke Out at Salisbury, Vt.

SALISBURY, Vt., May 19.—Without loss of life, a fire broke out at the residence of the little village of Salisbury yesterday, which destroyed a large portion of the community. The buildings burned were the railroad station of the Montreal and Vermont railroad, and the general store of F. C. Dyer, where the fire started, his barn and storehouse and the grist mill, store and dwelling house of Myron Page. The loss is between $60,000 and $70,000. The morning train from New York and Boston for Montreal was delayed for a long time, being unable to go through the village on account of the fire. All the burned structures were of wood and there is little insurance. The cause of the fire is unknown.

NEVER TOUCHED US

Transit of the Comet Passed Unnoticed in Lowell

Halley's comet and the earth, rushing in opposite directions like celestial trains passing a metropolitan station, came last night into line with each other and the sun, and the planetary habitation of men then awaited for a contact of a few hours into the tail of the hairy star. Astronomers are not sure whether it was the mere tip or the body of the appendage that hit us, but it is certain not only that the conjunction did the earth no harm, but that it produced no phenomena which could be definitely and immediately traced to Halley's.

The royal salute of an aurora borealis seems to have been held off to some future occasion. For some reason peculiar to the wayward nature of the comet, the predicted shower of meteors was also postponed. Best of all, perhaps, the electric service was not noticeably interfered with, and the modern Puck went on putting his girdle round the world in sheer defiance of the visitor from celestial spaces.

With the reappearance of the comet in the morning sky yesterday popular interest in Halley's seemed to culminate. In Lowell alone a legion of people turned themselves into star-gazers. From every point commanding a view of the heavens the comet was watched for, not only by single observers, but by considerable groups, even by organized "comet parties" numbering from a dozen to 50 people.

Veiled by Cloud-Haze
The expectation of seeing something after sunrise was also doomed to disappointment, even if the comet were bright enough to yield a daylight view, for the dawn brought threatening clouds, a high wind, and finally torrents of rain, which, with the exception of a brief intermission about 5 p. m., persisted until after dark.

The day's downpour closed with a remarkable sunset, which many persons ascribed to the influence of Halley's comet. Seen in the thick drizzle, through an atmosphere surcharged with moisture, the sun glowed a deep red and seemed veiled to nearly twice its normal diameter.

Beautiful Rainbows
Just before sunset one of the most beautiful rainbows ever seen spanned the eastern sky, showing for a while a second bow in subdued colors.

Apparent Darkening
There was certainly for a time yesterday forenoon an appearance of darkness different from that caused by rain clouds and this may have been due to the passage of the comet between the sun and the earth.

The whole resources of modern science are meanwhile being brought to bear upon Halley's with a view to learning something about comets in general—finding out their mechanical structure, the forces that bind them together or sometimes tear them apart, the origin of curious tails, wisps and streaks in their tails, and above all, the source of their wonderful and ever changing luminosity.

Battery of Instruments
Halley's is being scrutinized with draw before 1400 people at the Stand-camera, telescope and spectroscopic from every observatory in this country and abroad with a degree of eagerness and a fullness of instrumental equipment perhaps never before equalled in any previous astronomical investigation.

The photographic record will be the most complete ever taken of a comet; it will show all distinctive markings, such as bright patches and streaks, and the exact shape and formation of the tail. The spectroscopic will analyze the light of the comet, with especial reference to the jets and envelopes in the tail, and all portions bright enough to yield results. An effort will be made to distinguish between that part of the comet's light which is merely reflected sunlight and that portion which is due to its own luminosity.

SCHOOLS CLOSED

Two Principals Reduced to Ranks

HAVERHILL, May 19.—Two principals in the public schools were reduced to the rank of teachers, four regular teachers, two of whom have been instructors in the high school for several years, were discharged, and the Greenleaf and Portland street schools were ordered closed at the end of the year by the school board at a regular meeting last evening. Walter F. Sayward, principal of the Cogswell school, whom the committee was planning to depose, was given the additional duty of principal of the Walnut square school.

The most important action of the committee was in closing the two schools, as there has been considerable opposition. It is believed that the change will result in an annual saving of about $3000.

Miss C. Frances Day who has been principal of the Walnut square school was reduced to a regular teacher, as was Miss Maria L. Gardner of the Portland street school.

The teachers dropped were Miss Nellie Moore and Joan F. Caskey in the high school, Miss Nellie J. Wentworth of the Walnut square school and Miss Elsie K. Smith of Boston, teacher in the manual training department. Resignations were received from Miss Mabel Hunt, Miss Annie W. C. Merrill and Miss Ada B. Berry.

PRESCOTT STREET CLOSED
Owing to the repairing of Prescott street, cars will leave the corner of Merrimack and Central streets for the following lines: Westford street, North Chelmsford, Chelmsford Centre, Lawrence and Fletcher streets.

THE DREXEL MILLIONS WILL RESTORE RUINS OF ANOTHER CRUMBLING ENGLISH MANSION

NEW YORK, May 18.—Members of the Drexel-Maidstone wedding party will sail for London May 24. The marriage of the titled Englishman to one of the richest heiresses in the United States will not be on the elaborate scale as first planned, owing to the death of King Edward, but the bride will wear a gown that cost $16,000. The Drexel millions will be used partly in restoring the ruins of Kirby Hall, the ancestral seat of Viscount Maidstone. Miss Drexel will be married to Viscount Maidstone on June 3. The wedding will be in St. Margaret's church, Westminster, and the bishop of London will officiate. The bridemaids will be Miss Mildred Carter, Miss Edith Wayne of Philadelphia, Miss Nelly Post, Lady Barrymore's daughter, who will soon become a bride herself, and the bridegroom's sister, Lady Gladys Finch-Hatton; Lady Letty Manners, Miss Rhoda Asley, daughter of the dowager Lady Hastings; Miss Margaret Combe, daughter of Lady Constance Combe, and Miss Sibyl Fellowes, daughter of Lord and Lady de Ramsey. There will be two small bridesmaids also, Lord Maidstone's cousins, the young daughters of Lady Muriel Paget.

BOSTON, May 19.—The body of a young man was discovered hanging by a rope from the crossbar of an electric light pole on the circuit drive in Franklin park yesterday afternoon by Frank Dowd of 2835 Washington street, Jamaica Plain.

Having tired of stage life, Ad Wolgast, the lightweight champion, who has not fought since he won the title from Ed Nelson, is now ready to don the mitts. His manager, Tom Jones, has announced that he has matched

Dr. Dowd hurried to the sub-post station of division 13 at the Overbrook and notified Sergeant Thompson. The police called Dr. Libby of 1800 Columbus avenue, who hurried to the scene and pronounced the man dead. Associate Medical Examiner Waters ordered the body removed to the City hospital morgue.

The suicide climbed to the top of the electric light pole, a distance of 25 feet, and after fastening the rope to the cross piece, adjusted the noose around his neck and dropped the length of the rope.

How long the body had been hanging from the pole is not known. The circuit drive is a main thoroughfare in the park and although the day was stormy a number of occupants of cars, strollers and pedestrians, have to patrol that section quite frequently.

Capt. Harriman of division 13 found no mark of identification on the man and no letter or card that would aid in identification.

The young man was about 25 or 27 years old, 5 feet 7 inches in height and weighed about 125 pounds. He had a smooth face, brown hair and blue eyes, medium complexion. He was dressed in black trousers, dark mixed colored coat, no vest, black shirt no collar, gray cotton underwear, black shoes and stockings and gray felt cap.

Man Thought Revolver Was Empty

NEW YORK, May 19.—After he had shot and killed his best friend yesterday, Herbert K. Conway of Harrison, N. J., threw himself, weeping, on the body and fainted.

Ad to meet Lew Powell, the California crack, for ten rounds, before the Pacific A. C. in Los Angeles, Cal., the first week in June. Powell is a fast boy for ten rounds, and the champion is taking a big risk with him. The promoters are also anxious to have Wolgast meet Tommy Murphy or some other eastern crack before the Jeff-Johnson mill takes place.

INTERESTING PAPERS READ

TUESDAY NIGHT

Old Middlesex chapter, Sons of the American Revolution, held an interesting meeting at the hall of the D. L. Page company in Merrimack street, Tuesday night, and listened to two interesting papers. George W. Putnam read a paper on "Patriots Who Were Not Military Men" and Rev. R. A. Greene, D. D., spoke on "Patriotism Past and Present."

Conway was talking with Joseph Elphum at Elphum's place of business in Harrison. He picked up a revolver which someone had left lying nearby. "Put it down, it's loaded," Elphum cried.

Conway fainted and said it was empty. To prove it, he pointed it at Elphum and dropped the trigger. The bullet fell to the floor, shot through the head. Conway, hysterical in his grief, fell on his back, begging him to come to life. When he found that Elphum was dead he became much calmer. Later he was committed to jail.

DIAMOND NOTES
Haverhill today.

No wonder it hurts Tom Fleming to smile. Read the following from Sporting News:

"Manager Tom Fleming of the Haverhill Mass. club has been a victim of misplaced confidence. Supposing that he was doing business with Catcher Shultz, the young backstop who accompanied the Bisons on their southern training trip, Manager Fleming forwarded a contract and transportation to a player who assumed the name of Shultz. The immediate decision to elect Shultz the engagement. Thus far the transportation money has not been returned to the Haverhill club. I have learned the name of the young man—well known in local City league circles—and will wait to hear his side of the case before I publish his name.

There was nothing doing all over the circuit yesterday.

Manager Gray has signed a new catcher, Honnell of Providence and he will appear in this afternoon's game.

Harold Danzig, former first baseman of the Lowell team has met his fate and is to be married at Sacramento, Cal., to Miss Jean Center, daughter of George Center of San Francisco. Miss Center and her sister live in Honolulu, and were on their way home when they met Danzig.

No more home games this week.

Moore or Boules will pitch today.

Pitcher Larry Tane of the Boston Americans was today purchased by Manager Flanagan of the Brockton New England league baseball team. He will join the Brockton club tomorrow and pitch against the Lynn team in the afternoon at the Centre street grounds.

Pape was bought after a conference yesterday and today between Manager Flanagan and President John I. Taylor and Manager Pat Donovan of the Boston team, the Boston team having option of re-purchase at the end of the season. Pape agrees to terms this morning and declared he would be here tomorrow.

The new pitcher was with Milwaukee last season, being purchased during the middle of the season by the Red Sox after a string of victories. The purchase price then was said to be $2500. He finished the season with the Red Sox, pitching 11 games. He batted for .143, making three hits in 21 times at bat. He fielded for .900. He comes from Cincinnati, and his first professional experience was with Milwaukee last season.

Pape is a young man of promise. He pitched several games for the Red Sox at Hot Springs this spring and gave a good account of himself. He is a tall, rangy chap and a right-handed thrower and batter.—Brockton Times.

Fitzpatrick is one of the best second sackers in the league, and he is in the game every minute. Catching Metz at third in the fifth inning, when the ball was thrown to second to prevent Burg from stealing, was a piece of quick thinking.—Lynn Item.

So Red Rorty has quit umpiring, not because of illness, but because he is tired of umpiring in a bush league. Red must be real serious with himself since that little notoriety with President Lynch of the National League some weeks ago.—Brockton Times.

Something new in the line of baseball publications has just appeared in the "Ball" Boston Baseball Guide, a handsome bound copy of which has just been received.

The publication is the first in the history of the game that has given due space to the all important schedules. Added to this feature are many others which will make a place for the Guide in the hearts of the fans.

ELDER ACCUSED

OF HAVING ROBBED THE COLLECTION BOX

SACKVILLE, N. B., May 19.—Some time ago the collection box in the vestibule of the Methodist church at Milltown, N. B., was robbed of its contents. About three weeks ago the same thing occurred again. The elders of the church determined to catch the culprit and to this end rigged an automatic alarm on the box and connected it with the pastor's house, a few feet from the church.

About 3 a. m. Monday Mr. Carl, which was awakened by the alarm. Hurrying to the church he discovered a man in the act of removing the contents of the collection box. After running back to the house for his son, he returned and after a brief struggle the robber was secured and taken to jail.

The culprit was a regular attendant at the church, and was considered one of the most trustworthy men in the county. He is an elder of the church and is 75 years of age.

He will come up for his preliminary examination Monday and it is understood that he will plead sleep walking.

HE KILLED FRIEND

Man Thought Revolver Was Empty

NEW YORK, May 19.—After he had shot and killed his best friend yesterday, Herbert K. Conway of Harrison, N. J., threw himself, weeping, on the body and fainted.

Conway was talking with Joseph Elphum at Elphum's place of business in Harrison. He picked up a revolver which someone had left lying nearby. "Put it down, it's loaded," Elphum cried.

Conway fainted and said it was empty. To prove it, he pointed it at Elphum and dropped the trigger. The bullet fell to the floor, shot through the head. Conway, hysterical in his grief, fell on his back, begging him to come to life. When he found that Elphum was dead he became much calmer. Later he was committed to jail.

WOMAN ON TRIAL

She is Held on a Charge of Smuggling Goods

TRENTON, N. J., May 19.—Mrs. Matilda Chesbrough, whose husband, Fremont B. Chesbrough, owns a line of coastwise steamers plying out of Boston, and also a large part of a town in Michigan, was placed on trial in the United States district court yesterday on a charge of smuggling. For five hours Mrs. Chesbrough listened to the government witnesses called to prove the allegation that she had planned to escape payment of duty upon about $2500 worth of goods which she had in her trunks when she landed in Hoboken on May 25, 1909.

Mrs. Chesbrough watched the customs officials unpack one of her big steamer trunks and exhibit to the jury an alleged false bottom under which the government claims a portion of the dutiable articles were discovered. Indirectly there was brought into evidence the fact that several months after her arrival a pearl necklace, valued by the customs authorities at $25,000, was seized.

The details of this seizure were not brought out in yesterday's proceedings, and from the objections of Mrs. Chesbrough's counsel it was evident that an effort would be made to prevent implicating her in the importation of the necklace. The fact that there was such a necklace in existence was the result of finding in one of Mrs. Chesbrough's trunks a bill for an $18,000 pearl necklace.

While this phase of the case was under investigation, Mr. Chesbrough

FIREBUG IS BUSY

Two Attempts to Burn a House

BOSTON, May 19.—Two attempts within an hour of each other were made last night to burn the three-story frame tenement house at 574 Dorchester street, South Boston, occupied by two families, numbering fourteen persons all told.

The house is situated in a densely populated district. The first fire was discovered at 9:20 o'clock by John McEllan, who, with his wife and six small children, lived on the third floor. He went into the rear entry way to put out the milk bottles and found the place in flames. McEllan aroused all the other inmates of the house, and after seeing them in safety to the street turned in an alarm. The apparatus arrived before the flames could make much headway and the fire was quickly extinguished.

An hour later John Cobb, who, with his wife and five small children, lives on the second floor, detected the odor of smoke in the rear entryway of his

Why You Should Drink Hires

Because it is pure, wholesome and clean. Every ingredient is chosen with the sole aim of deserving your confidence.

Because its inventor, a practicing and practical chemist, chose for his formula the best in Nature—believing success deserving only when founded on giving equal value to those whose patronage has made his labors productive.

Because the formula—created in those good old days before chemistry had invented the artificial and the substitute—has never changed a single iota. Hires, the same yesterday, to-day and forevermore.

Because Hires has honestly proven its pre-eminent right to quench your thirst, refresh and do you good, having conferred a like service upon millions of thirsts before yours. Hires aids digestion and relieves indigestion. But it contains no trace of drugs or irritants, such as soap bark, etc.

The election of officers took place at the afternoon session, and there was only one contest, that of James Brazell of Fall River and Joseph Martin of Taunton for grand trustee.

The officers elected are as follows: Wm. J. Mohrman of Gardner, G. C. R.; Wm. J. Mitchell of Arlington, G. S. C. R.; Wm. H. Stafford of Lowell, G. S. C. R.; William Duncan of Taunton, G. FINDS HER FATHER

Daughter Leads Rescuing Party to Woods

CAMMAL, Penn., May 19.—The story of a remarkable vision, which resulted in the discovery of aged Henry Zink, who was lost for three days and as many nights, comes from the Black Forest at a point near the intersections of Lycoming and Potter counties. Mr. Zink, who is almost 80, but quite vigorous for that age, was engaged to watch and sell a drove of 20 steers that had been turned into the slashings and wild lands for their summer grazing.

It was the business of the old man to go out every day and see that the cattle were taken to sections where the young grass is plentiful and to see also that at least once a day they were driven to a stream. These two things accomplished, his day's work was done. He was usually home before the noon hour.

When he failed to return, his daughter, Mrs. Henry Miller, with whom he lives, did not become alarmed at his absence until midnight. That night his son-in-law and four other men, dividing into two squads, with flashlights and pitch pine, scoured the woods and swamps for the old man, but daylight came and, though the men had covered over seven miles of territory, but one sign of where Mr. Zink had been was found. One of the men discovered in a lonely spot the sack in which he carried salt the morning on which he left home.

His alarmed daughter, on arriving home, worn out with anxiety, fell into a sleep from which she did not awaken until 4 o'clock in the morning. She declared that she had seen her father in her sleep, and that he was lying under a ledge of rock, helpless, though his eyes were open. She insisted that her husband accompany her to the place where the old man lay.

Believing that his wife had gone insane, Miller went with her. She followed an old log road for nearly two miles, and suddenly plunging into the thicket, headed directly for a ravine along one side of which is a high precipice. Under a section of this overhanging ledge lay the old man, helpless from an attack of paralysis. He could make them understand only in whispers, and they got him home.

200 MEMBERS

OF SODALITY TO ATTEND NOTRE DAME DE LOURDES CHURCH

The members of the Holy Family sodality of St. Joseph's parish to the number of 200 will march to Notre-Dame de Lourdes church next Sunday, and receive communion there in a body at 7:30 o'clock. Rev. Fr. Bernabe, O. M. I., their chaplain, will lead the men, who will march from St. Joseph's church to Notre-Dame de Lourdes church. At the station, the men of the Sacred Heart league of the latter church, 100 in number, will meet the visitors and escort them to the church, bearing flags and banners. They will also receive communion.

The C. M. A. C. had a similar pilgrimage last year, and other societies from other local French Catholic churches have been invited by Rev. Fr. Lamotte, O. M. I., the rector, to do the same. It is the rector's plan to make the church one of great pilgrimage and of special devotion to Notre-Dame de Lourdes.

TYPOGRAPHICAL UNION

At a meeting of the Lowell Typographical union, No. 310, held yesterday afternoon, Samuel Mitchell was elected a delegate to the national convention which is to be held in Minneapolis, Minn., next August. They also voted to send a delegation to the record as favoring the re-election of President Lynch of the national organization.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

An entire change of program will be seen at the Opera House today, afternoon and evening, and for the remainder of the current week. The vaudeville features of today's program will be the Harmony Trio, one of the highest priced singing acts in vaudeville and one that embraces in its program good comedy as well as fine singing. This act has been engaged as a special feature of an excellent bill to be seen at the Opera House today. Delmar and Delmar, sensational equalibrista, will offer some difficult feats while George C. Davis, who is the only comedian who has succeeded in duplicating the success of the late J. W. Kelly, will be one of the prominent features of the program. Grace Alwyn, a pleasing vocalist, will be heard in some of the latest pictorial comedies, and an entire new list of pictures of the latest prints will be shown. The pictures at the Opera House are all ways of the newest and best to be obtained and are selected with care. A fine program has been arranged for Sunday afternoon and evening and will include selections by the Harmony Trio, Inez Larson, cornet virtuoso, Grace Alwyn, an entire change of pictures as well as other features. Prices at the Opera House are five and ten cents, and performances are given every afternoon from 2 to 6 and two full shows at night, starting at 7 and 9:30.

THEATRE VOYONS

Today the Theatre Voyons features the first picture taken in this country by Pathe Freres, entitled "The Girl From Arizona." Pathe pictures have been the standard since the start of the moving picture business and they have seldom been approached by other makers. The first release will be followed by others, all typically American and made by American actors. Another feature will be the very funny comedy, "The Rejuvenation of Father," one of the most laughable yet issued and sure to please those who want to laugh. A dramatic subject of more than ordinary worth and a scenic view also be on the bill and two illustrated songs will be sung by the best singers in the city.

EMPIRE THEATRE

St. Jenks and Kennedy & Kennedy are at the Empire theatre beginning today. St. Jenks is that famous Vermont rube who has just come down to see the sights. All who see him cannot help but enjoy themselves for he is naturally funny, he comes with a wide reputation as a mirth-maker. Kennedy and Kennedy are well known in the theatre world; their dancing and singing act is sure to please. If you don't know them come and get acquainted.

We do not need to say anything about our pictures. They are the best obtainable, one feature picture as usual is a biograph, and Charlie Rogers is singing the latest march ballad, "When a College Boy Meets a College Girl."

STAR THEATRE

The admission of five cents prevails at the Star theatre again beginning today and a program of length and variety is being given, consisting of a talking picture, illustrated songs and other motion picture subjects. The talking picture is just like a play. The characters speak telling as a whole a connected story. It is most realistic and should not be missed. The admission of five cents includes a seat. Amateurs will appear Friday night of this week only.

FOR A SANER FOURTH.

The legislature seems disposed to pass the bill providing for a saner Fourth of July. Everybody wants the national holiday observed with less danger and with less noise. The former affects the people who celebrate, the latter those who remain in their homes. It is a torture to the sick, the aged and the nervous as well as to the very young children. If the legislature passes the bill providing for the elimination of dangerous features, it is likely that it will be effectually enforced as there is a strong sentiment in favor of such a law.

NEW AUTO FACTORY COMING.

The Board of Trade finds an automobile company anxious to secure a location for a factory in this city. We have a great many excellent locations. Lowell, too, is a great city for automobiles. It seems as if the craze is spreading rapidly. It must have taken deep root in Lowell when it is not an uncommon thing for men to sell their houses in order to secure automobiles. These, of course, are extreme cases. The legitimate buyers are increasing every day, and the dealers must be reaping large profits. Already we have a great many garages and another fine one is to be located at the corner of East Merrimack and Stackpole streets. Let us keep up the reputation of Lowell as an auto racing centre and we may ultimately have several factories here.

EXTORTIONS THAT SHOULD BE STOPPED.

The Board of Charity touched upon a question of great importance in exposing the workings of the money-lending system that makes a poor man pay $9 for $3 loaned and $25 for $10 loaned. This is nothing more or less than a system of manufacturing paupers, and it should be suppressed in some way. If pawnbrokers are the offenders in such cases they should lose their licenses on being found guilty of any such extortion. If it be the money lenders other than pawnbrokers, then something should be done to expose their methods of taking advantage of the occasional necessities of wage earners to extort from 200 to 300 per cent for their loans, the time usually never extending over six months. This abuse was effectually suppressed in Boston and there is no reason why the same should not be done here.

TO MUZZLE THE PRESS.

An effort is being made in certain quarters to make it illegal for newspapers to publish reports of prize fights.

Would it not be the more constitutional plan to make prize fights illegal? If the press can be prevented from publishing a true account of what happens at a prize fight, why not also put an interdiction on police court news, divorce news and scandals of every kind.

The fact is, this talk about the alleged injury resulting from the proper publication of certain occurrences is all nonsense. If the publication were forbidden the evils would be greatly multiplied, but according to the assumption of those who would muzzle the press, it is all right to commit crimes if the newspapers say nothing about it.

Already a number of British peers have arranged to attend the Jeffries-Johnson fight and doubtless a number of congressmen and other public officials would also attend if they could rely upon the newspapers not publishing their names. The press would not be free if the news of prize fights could be suppressed. But the constitution says: "Congress shall make no law abridging free speech or the freedom of the press." That should stop any such absurd effort at muzzling the press as is proposed.

TO MAKE THE MERRIMACK NAVIGABLE.

If the Board of Trade can arouse fresh interest in the subject of navigating the Merrimack river from Lowell to the sea, it will have rendered a real service to the city. It seems that the river could easily be made navigable at least below Lowell, if the government appropriated the money. The Merrimack from Lowell to Lawrence is deeper and wider than from Lawrence to Haverhill, while from the latter city to the sea it is in fairly good condition for ordinary vessels.

The government expends vast sums upon the widening and deepening of rivers and harbors in different parts of the country. Why not spend a portion of this money for the principal river in New England, the Merrimack? Had our members of congress done their full duty in the past the river might now be navigable from Lowell to the sea.

What would this mean? Lower freight rates on coal and other commodities used in manufacturing. If Lowell could get her coal up the river from tide water the saving from the supply for the entire city would be enormous.

Strange to say there will be found those who will oppose this project for the cheap transportation of coal. They will do it for selfish reasons; but their word or their influence should receive little attention as they are working for their own selfish interest or else as the paid agents of concerns whose aim it is to keep freight rates as high as possible.

The Lowell factories have a permanent bounty from Nature in the water power furnished by the Merrimack, and if they could purchase coal at a little over tide water prices they could compete against the world. Fall River and New Bedford have little water power, but they have the advantage of low freight rates for coal. Assuming that our annual coal supply for Lowell is 500,000 tons and that 25 cents a ton could be saved by bringing the coal up the river, there would be a clear saving of $125,000 to start with. That saving would soon pay the entire cost of the improvements.

BUTTRICK WILL

Allowed by Court and Col.

Chadwick Made Executor

The will of the late Martha M. Buttrick of this city, who died March 9, 1910, was allowed by Judge Chambers in the probate court at Cambridge today. Austin J. Chadwick of this city was appointed executor and furnished a bond of $150,000. The estate is valued at $97,000, $70,000 of which is real estate and the $27,000 in personal property. The house, land and furniture at her late home, 383 Westford street, is according to the provisions of the will left to the Lowell Y. M. C. A. to be used as a permanent home for the secretary of that association in memory of her brother, James C. Buttrick, who was greatly interested in the Y. M. C. A. To the Concord (Mass.) Antiquarian society is left a large collection of papers and antiques, which is to be known as the John and Lucretia Buttrick Memorial room. To the Highland Congregational church $100 to be known as the Martha A. Buttrick Bible fund to purchase bibles to be awarded for the primary department of the Sunday school of that church. The Lowell W. C. T. U. is to receive $300, $600 is to go to the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, $3000 to the Lowell Y. M. C. A. building fund, and $1000 each to the Congregational Educational society, Congregational Missionary society, Congregational Church Building society, and the American Missionary association.

ANOTHER ARREST

Mrs. Taylor Held as Witness in Bill Keliher Case

BOSTON, May 19.—Mrs. Margaret L. Taylor, who was detained at Concord, N. H., today as a witness in the National City bank case, is a young woman who had been friendly with George W. Coleman, the bank's bookkeeper, who yesterday was sentenced to serve 15 years in the Greenfield jail for embezzling $300,000 from the institution. Coleman and Mrs. Taylor attended the same school in Cambridge and were neighbors for some time. Several years ago Mrs. Taylor and her husband separated and a divorce followed. The federal authorities claim that Mrs. Taylor was frequently entertained by Coleman and that she was one of a number of the bookkeeper's friends who visited the bank occasionally. The government officials do not make any charge against the young woman. They desire to know if she can furnish information concerning the relations between William T. Keliher, who is on trial on a charge of aiding Coleman in looting the bank, and the bookkeeper. At the time the bank was closed Mrs. Taylor was in New York.

Called Out Department Last Night

An alarm from box 232 at 8.50 o'clock last night summoned a portion of the fire department to a lively blaze in the shop of the American Wire Goods Co. in Bridge street opposite Seventh street. The fire started in a pipe which connects the boiler with the brick chimney, but was extinguished before any material damage was done.

Fire in the Pollard House
The members of the Police Co. No. 4 were called to the residence of A. G. Pollard, in Mansur street at 8.15 o'clock last night to extinguish a fire which started in the chimney. Inasmuch as the evening was raw and damp a fire was started in the fireplace and the sparks set fire to the chimney and the fire threatened the house, but the timely arrival of the apparatus prevented a bad blaze.

IN THE CHURCHES

PLEASING ENTERTAINMENTS HELD IN VESTRIES

"Mr. Doh," a pleasing little comedy well known to amateur actors in this vicinity, was given last night by the young people of the First Unitarian Congregational church in the church vestry. The parts were well taken and the play, so full of humor and funny situations, was much enjoyed.

Highland Congregational
"Thanker's P. O." was repeated at the Highland Congregational church last night by the same cast which gave the comedy in Highland hall on the night of May 5. There was a large attendance and the performance was well liked.

PATENTS GRANTED

Among the recent patents of local interest secured through the office of Gardner W. Pearson, Esq., are the following:

Patent on sizing composition for warts to Abel Vermeilich and Noel Veschlat. This composition has already gone into extensive use, and is in great demand.
Patent on finishing processes for treating woolen and worsted dress goods to Robert P. Todd and Richard B. Batty. This process and the machine by which it is operated take the place of the slow and unsatisfactory processes of steaming and crabbing. The process is continuous and permits one man to do the work of six with a much more even result.

MORSE LAWYER FAMOUS ACTRESS

Sees Chance to Free His Man

Clara Morris is Not Improved

BOSTON, May 19.—A legal technicality brought to light yesterday when George F. Coleman, the self-confessed Cambridge bank wrecker was given a fifteen year prison sentence may be used in an attempt to secure the release of Charles W. Morse, the New York banker and financier, from the federal prison at Atlanta, Ga. Walter Held, an attorney who represents the Morse interests in this section, was an interested listener at Coleman's trial yesterday and he believes that his client can be discharged from Atlanta on the same grounds that prevented Coleman from being sentenced to the federal institution, namely, that the federal statutes governing such cases do not provide for hard labor in prison while they specify that only prisoners sentenced to hard labor shall be confined at Atlanta.

NEW YORK, May 19.—Clara Morris (Mrs. Frederick C. Harriott) is critically ill at her home in Yonkers. Aside from her physical condition, grave fears are entertained for her eyesight, which has been threatened for the last three months. At her home it was said that the actress has been confined to her bed since March and that she has been gradually sinking. Regarding her eyesight, it was said that she could see only dimly. Several specialists have been at

Immediately after the ceremony, a reception was held, a large number of guests, including friends from Boston, West Medford, Bridgeport, Conn., and Maine, being present to offer congratulations to the young couple. Receiving with Mr. and Mrs. Irvine were Mr. Todd, the bride's father; Mrs. Samuel Roosevelt Bayles of Bridgeport, Conn., her great-aunt; and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Irvine of Thomaston, Me., the bridegroom's parents. The ushers were: Mr. Lyman W. Proctor of West Medford, Mr. James Blaine Shaw of Boston, and Mr. Arthur R. Coffin of Lowell. During the reception, as well as during the ceremony itself, the Adams trio entertained. After the reception, Mr. and Mrs. Irvine left on a tour and on their return will reside at 22 Hollywood street, Worcester. The young couple were the recipients of many beautiful and appropriate gifts.

The last time Clara Morris appeared on the stage was on April 16, 1909. The occasion was a benefit performance for her at the New York theatre. She took part in the sleep walking scene from "Macbeth." Surrounded by the members of the Twelfth Night club, which had arranged the testimonial, she spoke for nearly ten minutes, sitting in an armchair. She told the audience that she was not of those who believed the American public was unappreciative of the artist, and her case gave the lie to the prevalent statement that woman's greatest enemy is her sex.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. Wamsley Blake Irvine of Worcester and Miss Jessie Mathilde Todd of this city were united in marriage last evening at the home of the bride's father, Thomas Todd, 175 Cross street. The ceremony took place at 6.30 o'clock and was performed by Rev. James H. Irvine of Thomaston, Me., the bridegroom's father, assisted by Rev. J. W. Stephan of the Worthen Street M. E. church.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was Mrs. Anna Phillips Proctor of West Medford, and the best man was Mr. John Wallace Fraser of this city. The bride wore white embroidered satin, draped with chiffon with trimmings of princess lace, and a tulle veil caught with orange blossoms. Her

Salem Millionaire Passed Away

SALEM, May 19.—Isaac Chauncey Wyman, reputed to be one of the wealthiest men in this section, died at his home on Lafayette street, yesterday morning of diseases incident to old age.

He is thought to have been worth between 20 and 30 million of dollars, the greater part of which is in real estate. His possessions include property in every state in the union, and nearly two-thirds of the real estate in the town of Marblehead, Mass. It was his boast that he could walk from his home in this city, near the Marblehead line, to the other extreme end of the latter town, without stepping a foot from his own land.

Mr. Wyman lived in a small, unpretentious house, with a housekeeper as his only companion. He never married and was considered penurious in the extreme. His only living relative is a Mrs. Susan Dickerson.

He was born in Marblehead, Jan. 21, 1828, and was graduated from Princeton in 1848 with the degree of A. M. He later graduated from Harvard law school. He practiced law in Boston for about 12 years and then went into the real estate business, with headquarters at Marblehead. It was his practice to buy up waste or unimproved land and hold it for increased value.

Mr. Wyman was well known in banking circles in the vicinity of Lynn and Salem and his advice was much sought by men of business.

HELD IN $1000

Men Are Charged With Conspiracy

LAWRENCE, May 19.—Probable cause was found in police court here yesterday afternoon against George Yelland, Timothy Murphy and William Yelland on charges of conspiracy in connection with an alleged wholesale larceny of cloth from the Arlington mills, and they were each bound over to the grand jury, the first two in the sum of $1000 each and the latter in $500.

Sarah Kimmel was sentenced to jail for 30 days for receiving stolen property. Sarah Rosenberg waived examination on a charge of receiving from Yelland and Murphy and she was bound over to the grand jury in the sum of $1000.

WOMAN HELD

SHE IS CHARGED WITH ASSAULT ON GIRLS

LYNN, May 19.—For alleged participation in two assaults committed on Tuesday night upon strikebreakers employed at the factory of the Watson Shoe company, where the buttonhole operators have been on strike for some time, Annie Cox, 34 years old, of 4 Oxford street, an operative in another factory, was arrested by Reserve Officer Staples last night.

In addition to facing two charges alleging that she assaulted other girls, Miss Cox will also be charged with disorderly conduct in a public place. Tuesday night the strikebreakers were followed from the factory by quite a crowd of strikers and sympathizers. The girls sought refuge in the Sutton street police station and, after the crowd had been dispersed they quickly left the building by a rear entrance. It was then that the alleged assaults were committed.

LE REVEIL COMPANY

The stockholders of Le Reveil Publishing company, which publishes newspapers in Manchester, Lowell, and Providence, held a meeting on Monday at the Providence office and voted to sell the entire property. If possible, the three papers now published in New Hampshire, Massachusetts and Rhode Island will be sold in bulk or in one parcel as the auctioneers say, but unless satisfactory terms are offered they will be sold separately. It is understood that the papers in the three cities will be published regularly until the new owners take possession in order that there may be no break in the business.

Attorney Mederic Guilbault of Manchester, president of the publishing company, presided at Monday's meeting and it is said that there was no material opposition to the suggestion that the affairs of the company be wound up at once and that all property be turned into cash. A committee was selected to look after this business, consisting of Mederic Guilbault of Manchester, chairman, Burns P. Hodgman of Concord, and Michel N. Cartier of Providence. Messrs. Hodgman and Cartier are receivers for the New England Investment Co., which held a controlling share of stock in Le Reveil company and Mr. Cartier was general manager of the N. E. I. Co. when it went into the receivers' hands.

BABY WHALE

WAS CAUGHT BY PROVINCE TOWN FISHERS

PROVINCETOWN, May 19.—The body of an infant found within the fish weir of the Frates crew at South Truro today was yesterday brought to the Consolidated Weir company's wharf, where crowds of spectators quickly gathered. It was the handsomest and healthiest of babies, and one of the biggest as well, it being no less than 12-1/2 feet in length. This infant was of the finback whale variety, the smallest specimen ever captured within a weir, if not the smallest ever caught without the mother in these waters.

Past bright colored and without blemish upon that side which lay uppermost as the little whale rested beside the pier, it was pronounced the most perfect specimen. It will be towed out of the harbor and cast adrift this afternoon, as no one cares to expend the time and labor in securing the trifling quantity of oil contained in the blubber.

Frates and crew killed the whale with difficulty. Using a boat gaff, a sledge and oars they beat and banded the lively, if young, creature into unconsciousness after a prolonged fight, during which the men were wetted by spray dashed upon them by the flying

It seems strange that so many mothers do not know that when children are sick the first thing to do is to "look for worms first."

It is a fact that worms in stomachs of every four sick children, in children there are over fifty different kinds of worms that can live in the stomach or bowels and do great harm to health. If your child is puny, pale, sickly or fretful, follow that wise saying "think of worms first."

Here are some of the many signs by which you may learn that your child has worms. Watch carefully for these symptoms: sunken eyes, pallor around the nose and lips, dimness of eyes, itching of nose, bloated face or abdomen, paleness, swollen lips, offensive breath. Also choking, swallowing, starting or groaning in sleep, dry cough, bed-wetting, milky urine, vomiting. Child may also be cross and nervous.

You may now give the medicine that kills the worms and casts them forever out of the system. It is "Tessender's Worm Expeller." The price of it is only 25 cents. For this small sum your child's life may be saved.

clukes of the Crested whale, and men who held to the ropes which had been attached to the body were nearly hauled into the sea.

BOSTON DENTIST

Thinks He's Heir to a Great Estate

BOSTON, May 19.—Believing that he and his brother Harry are heirs to a portion of the $120,000,000 Springer estate in Wilmington, Del., Dr. O. M. Springer, a dentist with offices at 55 Chambers street, has sent to his former home in Austria for evidence to prove his claims.

Dr. Springer stated last night that as yet he has but little evidence of his right to a share in the large estate, which covers a large portion of the center of Delaware's largest city, but that he expects the tracing of the records in Austria will prove his claims. Two brothers and a cousin in New York city are also said to be heirs, but Dr. Springer said they also have little proof of their contention.

No other claimants to the estate could be found in this city yesterday, although it is said a meeting of the family will be held in the city soon, preparatory to a fight for the estate. Of this meeting Dr. Springer had no knowledge.

PASTOR AND WIFE

GIVEN ANNUAL RECEPTION AT GORHAM STREET CHURCH

The Gorham Street Methodist church was the scene last evening of the annual reception to the pastor, Rev. N. W. Matthews, and Mrs. Matthews, by the society of the church. It has been customary ever since the society was formed to tender a reception to the pastor and his wife after their return from the annual conference. This was the 14th event in the pastorate of Rev. N. W. Matthews. The exercises last evening opened at 8 o'clock with Thomas Gardner in the chair.

The pastor and his wife were escorted into the vestry by Ambrose Hinkle. Albert Ingham played a march during the reception. After the reception the congregation sang "Blest be the Tie That Binds," followed by prayer by Joseph Sedcliffe. Letters of regret were read by the chairman from Rev. D. A. Willmott and H. W. Hook.

Rev. C. E. Fisher of the First Universalist church was introduced, and spoke of the pleasant relationship existing between himself and the pastor. He spoke of the standing that Mr. Matthews held among the pastors of the various churches throughout the city and was very much pleased that he had returned to Lowell for another year.

Joseph Sutcliffe spoke of the conference session in his usual manner. Mrs. Clogston presented both Mr. and Mrs. Matthews beautiful bouquets from the Ladies' Aid society.

Rev. J. T. Ullom of the Lawrence street church spoke of the good work the pastor is doing in this city. Charles Philbrick of the Mt. Zion lodge of Good Templars presented the pastor a beautiful basket of flowers from that order.

Rev. Mr. Matthews spoke of the work of the past years and the bright outlook for the future. He also thanked the various societies of the church for the beautiful bouquets.

Mrs. Matthews was called upon and expressed her thanks. Little Lorraine Leith presented Mr. Matthews a bouquet from the junior league of the church.

Refreshments were served in the social hall by a committee from the Ladies' Aid, consisting of Mrs. J. T. Norris, chairman, Mrs. William Cochran, Mrs. Thomas Higginbottom, Mrs. Fred Leith, Mrs. J. Bramhall, Mrs. W. Thompson, Mrs. J. A. Fiendel, Mrs. Clegg, Mrs. J. Crab and Mrs. George Chapman.

Ten young men from the Tower class acted as ushers as follows: Messrs. Orrin Taylor, Richard Campbell, Fred Matthews, James Brown, George Dennett, Guy McQuade, George Higginbottom, Orrin McKenzie, Joseph Madden was chief usher.

LOWELL'S GREATEST NEWSPAPER

THE BIG FIGHT

Will Take Place in 'Frisco

SAN FRANCISCO, May 19.—There is much rejoicing among fight followers over Tex Rickard's announcement last night, that Jeffries and Johnson will battle in this city for the world's heavyweight championship July 4. It has been many years since a 45 round fight was held in San Francisco, owing to the city ordinance which provides for boxing matches of limited duration. This has been construed as 20 rounds, but it is understood no barrier will be raised against an extension of the established fight period.

Gov. Gillett's widely published view of the situation and the statements coming from District Attorney Fickert are regarded as reassuring. The attorney is quoted thus: "I have not been apprised that the contest is to be held in this city and I have not considered the matter. The board of supervisors has not granted the promoters a permit yet, but there is a law allowing boxing matches and I cannot see the difference between Jeffries and Johnson fighting and other professional fighters who have been boxing here. However, I will look up the law and abide strictly by the statutes."

MILLS CLOSED

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 19.—Approximately 8000 employees of the American Woolen Co. were thrown out of work last night and today when that company closed its three mills in this city and in Olneyville for the remainder of the week, thereby establishing a three day work week schedule. None of the three mills of the company has been running full time for several months, caused, it is believed, by the lack of orders.

A BATTLE ROYAL

Axe Used in Fight at Waverley

WAVERLEY, May 19.—William Wallace, 40, a street foreman in the town employ, is believed to be dying at his home, 623 Trapello road, as the result of wounds received in a fight which took place in a room in the old town hall in Waverley square late yesterday afternoon.

Two axes, a baseball bat and three empty bottles figured as weapons in the melee, as a result of which all the men bear marks of battle.

John McCloskey and Joseph Chandler of Waverley and Frank McNeal of Watertown, Wallace's companions, were placed under arrest, and are held pending the outcome of Wallace's injuries.

The men, it is said, had been drinking heavily, and none appears to know just what led up to the quarrel which precipitated the fight. In the fracas Wallace was struck over the head with the blunt end of an axe, causing a bad fracture of the skull.

The cries of the men in the little shed attracted Police Officer John

Argy to the scene. He burst in, the door, and the fighting ceased as he entered.

Wallace lay on the floor unconscious the blood flowing from wounds about his head. McCloskey, Chandler and McNeal gave themselves up without a struggle and accompanied Officer Argy to the lockup.

Elects John H. Murphy Secretary

---Other Matters

John H. Murphy, the popular and efficient clerk in the supply department at city hall, was elected secretary of the board of trade yesterday afternoon to succeed John A. McKenna, resigned.

The election took place at a meeting of the board of directors, in accordance with the by-laws. Mr. Murphy received 13 votes; Mr. Joseph where he soon so entrenched himself by his ability and hard work that his superiors look upon his resignation with the deepest regret.

Mr. Murphy has been on various civil service lists for some years. He first passed successfully the examinations for the general clerical list, from which he was appointed to his position at city hall. He is at the present time lecturer of the Knights of Columbus, and is an ex-president of the C. Y. M. L. and the Franklin Debating club. He is also a member of the Holy Name society of St. Patrick's church.

Mr. Murphy is married and has one daughter. He makes his home at 128 Mt. Washington street.

After the election the meeting took up the regular business before it. A letter was read from an automobile concern, manufacturing commercial automobiles, asking what facilities could be offered in Lowell for a plant employing 500 men or more. This was referred to the committee on new industries.

A telephone message was received yesterday from Col. Edward Burr of the United States coast survey, saying that he would arrive in Lowell on Saturday morning to consult with the board of trade and business men concerning the use of the Merrimack river as a waterway for transportation from the sea.

The directors voted to ask the committee on transportation of which F. C. Garrett is the chairman, to meet Col. Burr and see that he obtained all the information he wished and, incidentally, get from him all the information they could as to the feasibility of making the Merrimack river navigable. In this matter the cities along the Merrimack are making a concerted campaign and some progress has already been made.

Surveys have been made of parts of the river. It has been stated in Washington by the coast survey that the deepening of the river from Lowell to the sea is feasible and would be valuable. To foster this idea the commercial bodies of the cities in the Merrimack valley are working. Col. Burr will be the guest of the board of trade here on Saturday. Vice President James O'Sullivan will be acting president on that day and a number of business men are to be asked to join the committee in the day's discussions and sightings.

The new members admitted at the meeting were F. C. Garrett, Arthur L. Holbrook, William S. Carrier and Regan and Kerwin.

THOMAS-PAPKE BOUT SAN FRANCISCO, May 19.—Lively interest is being manifested in the 20-round go between Bill Papke and Joe Thomas, which is scheduled for tonight. The fight is of more than usual importance as the winner will be given Quinn, 10 and Edwin W. Killpatrick. The directors met week ago but could not come to a choice. The contest then narrowed down to Messrs. Murphy and Quinn, both of whom were in every way desirable candidates with the result as aforementioned. After the announcement of the result of the ballot Mr. Murphy's election was made unanimous.

A Civil Service Eligible

Mr. Murphy comes to his new duties after four years in the office of the supply department at city hall. Born in Lowell of Lowell people, he has spent all of his 28 years here and has a large acquaintance in Lowell and vicinity, a fact which is sure to prove of aid to him in his new work.

He was educated in the Lowell public schools, taking two years of the classical course at the high school, and completing the three year course in stenography. After completing this course he took up mechanical engineering at the Lowell Textile school, where he remained two years.

His first business position was with the clothing firm of Putnam & Son in Central street, where he remained for some time. Later he entered the office of the supply department at city hall.

Cool Kitchen—Perfect Cooking

The housewife with years of experience—the woman who knows how to cook—finds, after practical tests and hard trials, the New Perfection Oil Cook-Stove is her idea of what a good cook-stove really ought to be.

She finds it requires less attention, costs less to operate, and cooks all food better than any other stove she has ever tried.

She finds the New Perfection oven bakes and roasts perfectly. The

has a Cabinet Top with a shelf for keeping plates and food hot. There are drop shelves for coffee pot or saucepan and nickeled towel racks. It has long turquoise-blue enamel chimneys. The nickel finish, with the bright blue of the chimneys, makes the stove ornamental and attractive. Made with 1, 2 and 3 burners; the 2 and 3-burner stoves can be had with or without Cabinet.

SUPREME COURT

Decides in Favor of the Town of Nahant

BOSTON, May 19.—The inhabitants of the town of Nahant win in the suit brought against them by Frederick R. Sears and other executors under the will of the late Frederick R. Sears, for an abatement of the $44,000 tax levied by the town on personal property valued at $4,000,000. An opinion yesterday by the full bench of the supreme court upholds the judgment of Justice Crosby of the superior court, who dismissed the executor's petition.

The assessment was objected to as excessive, disproportionate and illegal. Application was first made to the Nahant assessors for an abatement, but they declined to lower the figure. The assessors stated, and were later sustained in their assertion by the superior court, that a list of property which should have been furnished them under the statutes was not given seasonably, and that they had to make their assessment on such information as they had at hand.

The superior court found that the town and the assessors acted in good faith and that the executors had not shown a reasonable excuse for their delay in presenting the list.

GERMAN KAISER

Arrived in London at Noon Today

LONDON, May 19.—Emperor William arrived in London at noon today. The German imperial yacht Hohenzollern reached Sheerness last evening, but his majesty did not land until this morning, when he proceeded to the capital. The greeting of King George and the emperor was most affectionate. As the emperor and king drove to Buckingham palace great crowds in the streets exhibited a lively interest in the German ruler.

The men raised their hats and the women waved their handkerchiefs as the royal carriage passed. Arriving at the palace the emperor was taken at once to the apartments of the queen mother, Alexandra.

PEACE CONFERENCE

MONTICELLO, N. Y., May 19.—The international judicial arbitration court was the topic assigned for discussion at the peace conference today. Sigmund B. Baldwin former chief justice of the supreme court of Connecticut, led the speaking. He pointed out some of the faults of the present court of nations set up at the first Hague conference and expressed a hope that the proposition to make the judges of the international prize court ex-officio judges of the court of arbitral justice, which was endorsed by this government last year, would receive general endorsement.

H. B. MacFarland of Washington, former commissioner of the District of Columbia, declared that this proposition favored by Secretary Knox in a circular note to the powers last October would be adopted and that its success would in after years be considered the greatest achievement of the Taft administration.

FALL RIVER, May 19.—Two well dressed women who gave the names of Mrs. Margaret J. Hill, 100 Park avenue, New York, and also Broomfield N. J., and Margaret Bowen, 338 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, pleaded guilty in police court this morning to a charge of larceny of a small quantity

Household Remedy

Taken in the Spring for Years.

Ralph Rust, Willis, Mich., writes: "Hood's Sarsaparilla has been a household remedy in our home as long as I can remember. I have taken it in the spring for several years. It has no equal for cleansing the blood and expelling the humors that accumulate during the winter. Being a farmer and exposed to bad weather, my system is often affected, and I often take Hood's Sarsaparilla with good results. Hood's Sarsaparilla is Peculiar to itself. There is no 'just as good.' Get it today in usual liquid form or tablets called Sarsatabs."

Health and Beauty Queries

BY MRS. MAE MARTYN

Madge: Very frequently a dark, coarsely looking complexion comes from the failure of soap and water to remove all dirt from the pores of the skin. If you will dissolve an ounce of alumina in a half-pint of cold water, then add two teaspoonsful of glycerine, stir and allow to stand a few hours, you will have a splendid cream jelly for clearing up your skin. This cream is gentle, and will not cause hair to grow on the face. I find it excellent for softening and smoothing the skin and for removing the skin and for removing wrinkles, and if you will use it regularly you will soon have a charming, velvety complexion.

A. H. C.: You say you used detolene last summer to remove superfluous hair from your face and forehead, but that it has grown again very thick. This is the experience of many who have used detolene. One application is not always sufficient to permanently remove the annoying hair. Mix a little detolene with enough water to make a paste and cover with it the skin from which you wish to remove the hair. Let it remain three or four minutes, then wipe off and wash with warm water. This second application will be effective and the hairs will not return.

Bernice R.: Your hair will never look its best and be easy to do up as long as you continue to shampoo with soap. The alkali in soap and most ready-prepared shampoos eats the very life out of your hair, makes it harsh and brittle, and causes those faded, discolored streaks you speak of. Most shampoos simply remove the oil and dirt from the hair, but do not take out the dirt from the hair-roots which causes itching scalp, dandruff and finally dead, falling hair with split ends. If you will shampoo your hair with a teaspoonful of catnip dissolved in a cup of hot water you will find it most delightful. This shampoo produces a rich, creamy lather that cleanses thoroughly, dries quickly and leaves the hair soft, shiny and the scalp feeling fresh. This is by far the best shampoo I ever tried, and my friends, to whom I have recommended it, tell me it is simply splendid.

"Chorus Lady": There is nothing better for sore, itchy feet than putting them in a basin of warm water in which you have dissolved two teaspoonsful of phosol. This treatment is better than foot powder, for it opens up the pores and draws out the waste matter. Relief comes immediately and the soreness and swelling disappear. Regular use of phosol will toughen and harden your tender feet.

Jane R.: Your yellow, pimply complexion comes from impure blood. You should not neglect this any longer.

of bed linen from Fall River line steamer Commonwealth and were fined $20 each. Recently steamboat officials discovered a man who had fully furnished his home with stolen linen. He was caught and is now in jail. He gave the name of Hill and answers the description given by Mrs. Hill of her husband.

The sale has been so great that surely some of your neighbors are among the satisfied clientele and can make you acquainted with its superiority.

HALLEY'S COMET

Passed Between Sun and Earth
Without Visible Effect

Some Astronomers Claim That They Saw Dark Spots on Sun, Caused by the Comet—Others Make Different Claims—Passage of Earth Through Tail is Uncertain—Tail is Curved—The Moon Prevented Good View Last Night

WILLIAMS BAY, Wis., May 19.—Shattering all scientific calculations and greatly puzzling astronomers, the glowing tail of Halley's comet appeared in the eastern sky today at a time when the world's comet authorities had agreed it would be in the west. Such eminent astronomers as Prof. S. A. Mitchell of Columbia University, New York, Prof. Edwin B. Frost, head of the Yerkes observatory staff, and Prof. Edward Barnard of the University of Chicago, agree that the glow of light they saw in the east was the comet's tail. Prof. Mitchell, Prof. Frost and Prof. Barnard say that any of the following three explanations may be right:

First—The curvature of the comet's tail may have developed to a wholly unexpected degree.

Second—Halley's comet may have ceased its tail-making activity, cutting off the glowing fan that is now puzzling the scientists.

Third—It is possible that all calculations are wrong and that the comet has not yet passed the earth.

PROFESSOR SEE TELLS OF HIS OBSERVATION OF COMET

MARE ISLAND, Cal., May 19.—Prof. J. J. See, astronomer in charge of the United States naval observatory at Mare Island, announced yesterday the outcome of years of research in comets, which, he said, were some of the primitive masses once forming the solar nebula and could be popularly described as "immature, undeveloped planets."

"In the course of researches made at Mare Island during the last two years on the origin of the solar system," said Prof. See, "I have proved that comets are really survivors of the outer shell of ancient nebula from which our system was developed. All the inner parts of the nebula have been cleared away in producing sun, planets, and satellites, but many small masses still survive on the outer shell of the old nebula. These are the comets."

Prof. See last night reported the following observation on sun spots:

"Great sun spots were noted at 4 p. m. today. The largest spot was

POLICE COURT

FINE OF $20 IMPOSED FOR AN ASSAULT

In police court this morning Stergios Pantazis was charged with assault and battery on Kyriacos Garos.

For some time the complainant and defendant as a result of business transactions have been bitter enemies and threat after threat had been made, but the affair did not have its culmination until a week ago yesterday morning when Garos was met and assaulted by Pantazis.

Garos claims that his "enemy" threw a brick at him, the missile striking him on the forehead. The other brick struck him on the right hip. Questioned as to his desire to make a civil settlement with the defendant Garos said that he did not think there was enough money in circulation to settle for his injured feelings, but would leave the matter with the court.

The defense Pantazis said that he admitted he assaulted the complainant, but that he used his closed fist and not a brick.

The court after considering the evidence in the case ordered the defendant to pay a fine of $20.

Joseph Hennessy appeared for the defendant and the prosecution was conducted by Daniel J. Donahue.

Violated City Ordinance

Amos R. Bliss pleaded guilty to violating a city ordinance by allowing his automobile in remission for more than 20 miles in Merrimack street and a fine of $2 was imposed.

Drunken Offenders

John J. Hayes was charged with being drunk, but he denied the allegation. Pathman David Petrie said that he saw Hayes staggering through the "square" shortly after 10 o'clock but gave the man a chance to go to his home.

At 12:45 o'clock he was passing through a hallway in the Rundle building when he found Hayes lying in a drunken stupor on the floor. He placed him under arrest. Inasmuch as Hayes is in parole from the state farm he will be returned to that institution.

William E. Hurley, of Boston, who is a cripple pleaded guilty to being drunk and a fine of $2 was imposed, but when Patrick Connors was arrested in Middlesex street yesterday and was sent to jail for eight days.

Ralph A. Clark's condition warranted the imposing of a jail sentence instead of a fine, and accordingly he was sent to jail for ten days.

William J. Lee was fined $5 and three first offenders were fined $2 each.

TESTING SPEED Of Battleships on Three Atlantic Courses

ROCKLAND, Me., May 19.—The battleship Michigan, one of the leading ships of the navy, again went on to the Rockland course today to repeat the excellent showing she made yesterday in the standardizing being conducted on the three Atlantic coast mile courses. Each of the three ships will be given two similar tests on each course that results under different conditions may be compared.

The Michigan started for the course early in the morning while the sky was shining. Then the weather set in thick and she came back to the anchorage in the outer harbor. About 5 a. m., although rain was still falling, the atmosphere had cleared sufficiently to allow a view of the range marks and this wonderful development of marine architecture went on to the course. The twenty runs were not expected to be completed until late in the day.

The trial board officials are desirous of pushing ahead these tests as fast as possible as the trials on the three courses will occupy at least a month with reasonably good weather to aid them.

SEQUEL TO SUICIDE Close Game Played at MORE PARK LAND

Colonel Robert Ames to be Placed on Trial

MANILA, May 18.—Upon instructions from Washington, Lieut. Col. Robert F. Ames was yesterday confined to quarters and will be court-martialed on charges of conduct unbecoming an officer and to the prejudice of military discipline.

The action against the officer is a sequel to the investigation of the circumstances which led Lieut. Clarence M. Janney of the 12th Infantry, U. S. A., to take his life following a dinner party at the home of Ames at Fort William McKinley. The suicide's wife remains at the fort, and will probably be the chief witness at the court-martial.

A Filipino coroner and an army board of inquiry found that Janney committed suicide and so reported to Maj. Gen. Wm. H. Carter. After examining the findings the general returned them to the board with instructions that it obtain additional testimony covering certain features of the case.

Janney's death occurred on the night of March 12 last. On that evening Janney and his wife attended a dinner given by Ames, Captain William H.

Jordan, Jr., also of the Twelfth infantry, completed the party.

According to the testimony of the witness, Janney and his wife quarreled during the evening about a champagne cooler which Mrs. Janney had given to Ames.

A little later Janney left the house, returning soon with a revolver with which it was testified he shot himself either through design or accident in the presence of his wife and Colonel Ames.

Following the shooting Ames was placed under arrest, but a preliminary investigation of the special board of inquiry having cleared him he was released.

The Janneys were married in New York in 1908. She was born Madeline McKissick and belonged to a prominent family of San Francisco. She first married Dr. Fedar Brugulere, whom she divorced upon grounds of failure to provide for her. When she married Janney he was stationed at Governor's Island. He went with the Twelfth regiment to the Philippines in July, 1909.

There were about six hundred fans present at the game between Lowell and Haverhill at Spalding park this afternoon. FOUGHT A DRAW PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 19.—Young Dyson of this city, state featherweight champion, and Joe Coster of Brooklyn, boxed 15 hard rounds to a draw before 1400 people at the Standard Athletic club last night.

MR. MAN
That buys the coal, did it ever occur to you that to be a successful coal man, in the full sense of the word, you must have practical experience? Let us understand one another. The money that started me in the coal business I earned myself screening, shoveling and carrying coal right here in your own city. Today my coal yard and facilities for handling coal are second to none in this city. I know what coal is, and what coal is not; I know what to buy, and what not to buy; that means my customers do not have to suffer for my mistakes. I do not tell my men, go and do it. I say, come and do it; that means you hire your own foreman in place of the coal dealer hiring him for you. When you are about to place your coal orders, think this matter over.

Mail and telephone orders will receive immediate attention.

That a well known and public spirited citizen will, within a short time, give to the city of Lowell a large tract of land for park and playground purposes is quietly whispered today.

The Sun learns from good authority that the story is true and that within the near future a most valuable tract of land will be donated to the city for park purposes. The land is suitable for a ball field, and if necessary for a circus field and public playground. We are not at liberty to mention the name of the donor nor where the land is situated.

KELIHER ON TRIAL

Charged With Aiding to Loot a Cambridge Bank

BOSTON, May 19.—In its efforts to convict William J. Keliher, a strapping young man of leisure, commonly known as "Big Bill" Keliher, of aiding and abetting George W. Coleman in looting the National City bank of Cambridge of $200,000, the government at the opening of the case today explained that the latter could not resist numerous inducements to "buck the tiger" in New York despite the fact that losses were continuous.

According to Assistant District Attorney Garland, who made the opening address today, Coleman began stealing from the bank in 1906, and took $20,000 in a year in a vain effort to win at roulette with the aid of a man known as "Jack." Then came a year and a half of virtue, but in May, 1909, Coleman met Keliher and once more listened to the tempting words of great winnings gained quickly. From that time until February of the present year the assets of the bank were transferred in $5000 and $10,000 lots to the gamblers in New York, always with the cry that just one more play would be sufficient to make up all losses.

Mr. Garland declared that Keliher personally advised the taking of the bank's money and was the tempter throughout.

In fact, when Coleman cried "enough," said Mr. Garland, Keliher gave him $100 to get out of the city and paid his hotel bill here. Coleman went to Kansas City with Miss Hightower, his sweetheart, and was there when the storm in the bank burst. In the few weeks that followed Mr. Garland said that Keliher made every effort to settle with Coleman in order to hush his (Keliher's) connection with the case. The government then called four witnesses, all bank officials.

Mrs. Taylor left here accompanied by government secret service agents on the train due in Boston this afternoon. The fact that Mrs. Taylor was in this city was accidentally discovered, it is said, by a member of the local police force, who overheard a conversation in which she was engaged a few days ago at a boarding house where she had been staying. At that place she had been known as Mrs. Wilson.

Mrs. Taylor, when her identity was learned, made no objection to returning to Boston. She intimated that she had come here because she did not want to be called as a witness in the trial of Coleman, but that she was willing to testify in the Keliher and Lockhart cases.

A $2000 VERDICT SAVED HER LIFE

Returned in Favor of a Negro

Woman's Wit Prevented a Killing

NEW YORK, May 19.—Joseph I. Charles, a negro, got a verdict for $2000 before City Court Judge DeLahanty yesterday against Policeman Daniel Nihil of the East 22nd street station. Charles testified that when the policeman was watching a house in West 27th street in which the negro lived the policeman pounded him with his club because he insisted on getting in.

Inspector McClusky was a witness for the policeman and said he had directed Nihil to watch the house and warn persons who tried to enter that it was disorderly. The policeman testified that he had orders not to let any one enter and he was merely obeying orders in keeping the negro out.

The court declared that the jury's verdict was proper and that policeman must be taught that they have got to obey the law.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 19.—Frank Black, an expert machinist who has been confined in the hospital for the insane for some time, escaped in the night by manipulating a lock on one of the gates, and at 6 o'clock this morning his wife was awakened by him standing by her bed with a knife in his hand.

He had the knife raised over Mrs. Black and told her that he had come to kill her and then would kill himself.

She suggested that he get some breakfast before murdering her and said that it would be pleasant for them to eat one more meal together.

This seemed to divert the mind of the husband, and he walked out on the porch while his wife got up to get breakfast.

She hurried to a telephone and notified the police but when they reached the house Black was gone and search of the city failed to find him.

LATEST GRAVE ROBBING

Has Stirred the People of Greenwich, Connecticut

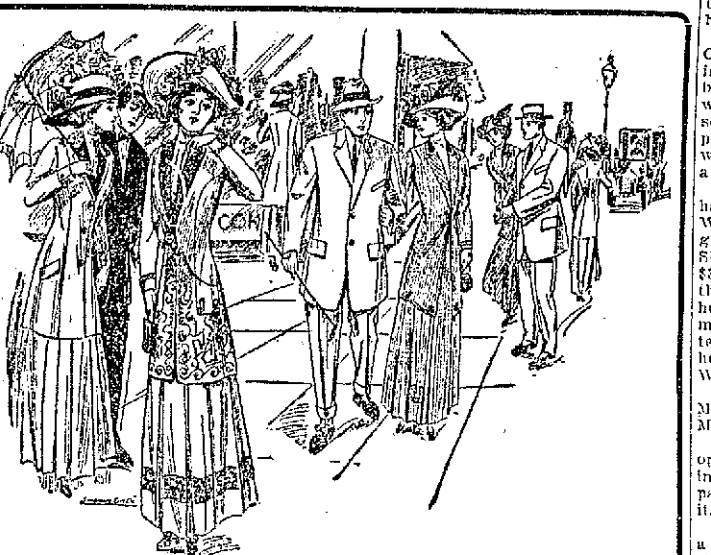

NEW YORK, May 19.—Greenwich, Conn., is excited over the search for the body of William Lockwood, a wealthy maiden lady, for grave robbers who took the body of William Lockwood from the Lockwood plot and carried it away, leaving the body in a shallow grave. One of the best criminal lawyers in that town has been consulted by Miss Lockwood, and it is understood that the robbers will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law, but there are many who assert that the robbers should not be blamed, and in case they are apprehended plenty of money will be provided to defend them.

For several years, William Lockwood, better known as "Billy Bray," was a well known character in the section of Greenwich, known as Stanwich. He lived at the home of Miss Lockwood, and was almost always with her when she drove out in her carriage. Although he was engaged in no business he always lived in what might be termed luxury. A week ago he was taken ill, and although he was attended by a specialist from New York he died. After his death, Miss Lockwood summoned it is said, an expert cabinet maker, and had a fine casket, silk lined, made for him. The body was taken to Miss Lockwood's family plot in Lockwood cemetery in an improvised hearse, Miss Lockwood followed in her automobile. At the cemetery, the body was interred close to those of members of the oldest Greenwich families. No sooner had the burial become known than the greatest indignation was aroused among the neighbors, for, to make the matter wholly clear, "Billy Bray" was Miss Lockwood's pet spaniel dog, and although he was a favorite with her, people objected to his burial in the cemetery.

FIVE WOMEN TO BE ALLOWED TO SEE SLAYERS

NEW YORK, May 19.—Through the efforts of Mrs. Virginia H. Field, wife of Cortlandt De Forest Field, a New York millionaire, certain women have been granted permission to visit slayers condemned to death in Sing Sing prison, and to minister to them spiritually. An order to this effect was signed by Justice Joseph Merschauser at White Plains yesterday. Mrs. Field had not heard of this until seen by a reporter at her home on East Twenty-sixth street, early last evening.

and he figured out a way. Myself, together with several of my friends who have been doing evangelistic work in Sing Sing prison for a quarter of a century, have never been able to see why Protestant men condemned to die were refused the spiritual ministrations of women of their own faith. "Catholic priests and sisters are allowed to visit Catholic prisoners condemned to die, but only ministers may visit Protestants. I have been working to save men in that prison for twenty-six years, and oh! the happiness of it all—so many souls saved, and so many hearts made happy!"

DIRECTS RESCUE

Man Pinned Down by 50 Tons

TRENTON, May 19.—Five hundred persons stood, breathless, around an overturned locomotive on the Reading railroad tracks last night and watched the thrilling struggle of a doctor, a priest, four women nurses and fifty workmen to save the life of a young man pinned beneath 50 tons of steel.

The man was conscious, and in the brilliant glow of a searchlight directed upon him from a fire engine, the awed crowd could see his lips move now and then as he told his rescuers how to ease his pain or hasten his release. For two hours the fearful little drama continued. The surgeon was administering stimulants. The priest knelt at one side of the injured man, speaking words of hope and being ready to perform the last rites for the dying.

The four nurses worked in relays, the heat from the locomotive's furnace, which was slowly burning the victim, was too much for one of them to endure for long.

And all the time the laborers, also in relays, were digging frantically with shovels, and some even with their hands, to tunnel a path of rescue for the imprisoned man.

When finally the last foot of earth was torn away and the victim was lowered and hurried to the dead-end heat, the watching crowd broke into a cheer that, even with the volume of many voices, seemed to quaver with emotion.

A waiting ambulance carried him swiftly to the McKinley hospital, which is not far away, and after an examination the doctors there reported that, while he was badly burned where his back had rested against the locomotive, and his left leg was crushed, he would probably recover.

The man was Thomas King, a freight clerk, who had been riding on the locomotive because he thought it safer than one of the cars. He had had a narrow escape from death while riding on a freight car some years ago.

As the train was passing through Trenton, spreading rails sent the locomotive off the track. It pitched over and fell on its side, and King was about to jump when it fell and his leg was caught under the massive machine.

The fireman, John McMurray, escaped by inches. His toes were crushed by the falling engine. Charles Hoff, the engineer, jumped clear of the wreck.

NEW YORK, May 19.—Supreme Court Justice McCall yesterday heard the case of a woman who was at odds over the possession of a baby with its child. He decided the case without resorting to the strategy of Solomon.

While the mother of the infant and his foster mother disputed over who should keep the baby, it lay asleep on the rear of the court room, unconscious of the legal fight that was being waged.

The baby was a boy, named John O'Malley Murphy. He was brought into court by Mrs. Francis C. S. Wittenburg, the foster mother, in answer to a writ of habeas corpus. This writ was secured by Mrs. Mary O'Malley Murphy, of No. 424 East Sixty-ninth street, who claimed her child was being held a prisoner by Mrs. Wittenburg.

GREAT THROUG KILLED HIS WIFE

Viewed the Body of King Edward, Young Man Then Gave Himself Lying in State Up to the Police

LONDON, May 19.—The last day of the lying in state of the body of King Edward brought a repetition of yesterday's scenes on an even larger scale. The resolute band of a thousand or so persons, mostly women, who had braved the storm throughout the night, was increased to a score of thousands before the sun rose and by noon the crowd awaiting admission to Westminster hall stretched for miles to the westward of the houses of parliament.

Because of the enormous number of persons who were sure to be disappointed last night, it had been planned to keep the doors open until midnight instead of closing them at 10 o'clock as was the original intention. This plan, however, was frustrated by the action of those nearest the entrance who became unruly and rushed into the building. To avoid a panic, the doors were hastily closed and the police reserves summoned to assist in restoring order. It was a half hour before this was accomplished. Soon afterwards rain fell heavily and all but about 100 persons returned to their homes.

This afternoon Emperor William paid a private tribute to the memory of his uncle, the late monarch. Accompanied by King George and their children, he went to Westminster hall where thousands of all classes were passing the bier. The emperor approached the casket and remained before it for some minutes. The emperor personally placed on the casket a magenta wreath for a few moments was engaged in prayer upon rising to his feet, his majesty turned to King George, who had knelt with his cousin before the bier and held out both hands, which the other grasped. Both monarchs were visibly affected.

NEWARK, N. J., May 19.—Henry Horney shot and killed his wife today at her mother's home on Borden street in this city. Horney then walked to a police station and gave himself up. He was supposed to have gone to Bridgeport, Conn., and detectives who were on the watch for him did not know that he returned here.

MILK INVESTIGATION

Several Physicians Heard by the Legislative Committee Today

BOSTON, May 19.—In an effort to ascertain whether the milk sold to Bostonians during the present production strike is injurious to the public the legislative investigating committee had before it today several physicians, including representatives of the state and city boards of health.

Dr. Durigan of the city board of health testified that the samples taken during the past two weeks show more bacteria than for any equal period of time during the year. He would not say definitely that milk 72 or 96 hours old was bad, as with unusual care it might be kept good. He would not say one of two cents a quart more, however, for fresh milk. It is not true, he said, that Boston has the largest infant mortality in the country, as a physician testified yesterday. Within the next twenty-four hours, he said, the Boston health department will have completed an inquiry into the milk situation.

As a result all of the previously assigned cases have been disposed of up to date and tomorrow Clerk Smith will have the regular list. There are still other assigned cases to be heard but for the present cases on the regular list will be called.

Charbonnet appeared for the plaintiff and Haven Hill for the defendants. The case was a short one and involved about $50 over the purchase and subsequent delivery of 26 plies. The case went to the jury about noon, and the case next in order, that of Mary C. Shea, through her mother, Catherine Shea, vs. Paul Butler et al., went to trial.

BRIBERY CHARGE

Mayor White of Lawrence and Other Officials Arrested

LAWRENCE, May 19.—Expressions of great surprise following the arrest last night of Mayor White, his private secretary, Matthew Degrey Ripon, Jas. A. Hamilton, chief engineer of the fire department, and eight other prominent political men, continue to be heard today throughout the city.

Mayor White declared that his arrest was an outrage. "I am innocent," he said, "and I will prove it."

The others who were arrested made similar statements.

The eleven arrests occurred last night following the action of the Essex county grand jury in Newburyport yesterday, when twelve secret indictments were returned. It was said that other arrests would be made today. All the men arrested who were immediately released on bail, were given a hearing at Newburyport today.

Charges of bribery, pressed by a local paper, brought about the arrests, it is said.

COURT INDICTMENT RETURNED

LAWRENCE, May 19.—Twelve secret indictments in connection with the local municipal "krant" investigation were reported by the Essex county grand jury at Newburyport yesterday afternoon, and last night between three and four hours were consumed by members of the local police force in serving capias upon those against whom charges had been brought.

The list included Mayor William P. White, Chief Engineer James A. Hamilton, Chief Engineer Legendre, members of last year's board of aldermen; Matthew Degrey Ripon, Mayor White's private secretary; John J. Cummings, a liquor dealer; Thomas A. Keegan, a plasterer; William H. Moleson, a real estate and insurance agent; Fred Koschitzky, a drug clerk; George B. Smart, a master plumber, and Ernest Dube, a city and, as is customary, the indictment against him was withheld.

Bribery, conspiracy to bribe and lar-ony are included in the charges, it is said.

White Notified by Phone
State Police Officer Fred F. Flynn was given the capias after the secret indictments were reported by the jury and he came to the city and the cooperation of the police department was given in serving them.

Mayor White and Sec. Ripon were notified by telephone by City Marshal Fox. Capt. Sullivan of the night patrol reached others, while in two instances patrolmen served the papers.

Some of the men indicted had already been arrested before reaching the station.

In the case of all except Ripon and Cummings the bail was fixed at $2500. The two named were ordered to recognize in $500 each.

Charge Against Mayor

Mayor White was charged with conspiracy to bribe, although there are understood to be several counts included in the indictment. A similar charge is brought against Burns, Smart, Dube and Koschitzky. Legendre is charged with receiving a bribe, Hamilton, Keegan and Moleson with bribery and Cummings and Ripon with larceny.

John Daly, Jr., and Thomas E. McDonnell became sureties for Mayor White, ex-Mayor James R. Simpson for Chief Hamilton, ex-Supt. of Streets John C. Neoham, ex-Alderman Burna and H. Fox for Sec. Ripon. The others were also bailed. They are directed to appear in court today in Newburyport.

Cause of Indictments

Most of the indictments, it is alleged, had to do with the appointment of Chief Engineer Hamilton as head of the fire department and the subsequent alleged attempt to oust him. The charge against the chief himself and Ex-Alderman Burns was said to be in connection with both features of the case.

Mayor White's part was in the alleged effort to depose Hamilton and Thomas A. Keegan, George B. Smart, Fred Koschitzky and Ernest Dube were similarly associated, according to the jury's finding. William M. Moleson, it is alleged, was a party to the selection of the chief for the fire department head. Cummings is charged with larceny of a quantity of confiscated liquor from the police station and a like charge is brought against Ripon in connection with a charge of automobile hire against the Fourth of July celebration fund of last year.

Ex-Alderman Legendre is charged with having sought a bribe for his endorsement of a trolley express franchise.

Alleged Attempt to Bribe

The return of the indictments shook the city to the very foundations. The investigation had its inception early in the year as a result of the alleged attempt to oust Chief Engineer Hamilton. Ex-Alderman Legendre claimed that an effort had been made to have him vote in favor of the removal of the chief, $1000 being offered as an inducement.

This report was made to the chief by the ex-alderman, the former said, and Hamilton urged that it be taken up by Dist. Atty. Peters.

Finally, after the grand jury had completed its work for the January term of court, the members were called together in special session in this city. A couple of weeks were spent in the investigation, a score or more witnesses being summoned.

Various other reports of alleged graft were inquired into, the naming of members of the fire department and the installation of a new fire alarm system being included in the investigation besides the matters covered by the indictments returned yesterday. The jury adjourned until the present term without announcing its findings.

As Mayor White was leaving the clerk of court's office with his bondsmen he greeted the newspaper men with the remark: "He down in court tomorrow if you want to hear the greatest plea you ever listened to."

100 WOUNDED

By the Explosion Near Havana

HAVANA, May 19.—Until the ruins have been more thoroughly examined it will not be known positively how many lives were lost when the rural guards barracks in the city of Pinar Del Rio was demolished by an explosion of dynamite late today. There is reason, however, for the hope that the fatalities did not exceed fifty. The wounded will number more than 100 others, it is believed. Investigation today developed no good grounds for the suspicion that the disaster was planned by conspirators against the government. It is almost certain that the explosion resulted from the accidental fall of a case of dynamite from the hands of an employee of the public works department, who, with others was engaged in loading upon wagons 72 cases of the explosive which was to be transferred from the barracks to the government magazine in this city. Many injured ones are believed to be still pinned under the debris. The work of extricating the victims was continued throughout the night by torchlight.

The quantity of dynamite exploded was nearly three tons. The buildings destroyed were massive structures. The government wireless station was shaken to bits. Many of the inhabitants thought that the disaster was caused by the approach of Italy's comet and that it was a precursor of a still greater catastrophe.

THE HEIKE CASE
NEW YORK, May 19.—The government today continued its effort to connect Charles R. Heike, secretary of the American Sugar Refining company, with the scheme to cheat the government out of sugar duties by underweighing.

Mr. Stimson, the federal prosecutor, called to the stand Fred Schwerdtfeger, a tallman employed by the American Sugar Refining company. He was shown the secret steel spring in evidence.

"Did you ever see anything like this before?" asked Mr. Stimson.

"Yes."

"Who had it?"

"We all had it," was the reply. The witness testified that he had used the spring in 1907 and as far back as 1901. Before that a little bag with lead pellets in it was used, he said. He said Walker gave him a spring. Harry Walker was the assistant dock superintendent, now on trial.

STOCK MARKET

CLOSED RATHER HEAVY THIS AFTERNOON

Postponement of the C. & O. Dividend Was Felt—There Was a Slight Reaction in the Market

NEW YORK, May 19.—Execution of the sprinkling of buying orders when the stock market opened moved prices upwards. The advance was partly in sympathy with the higher range of quotations in London. Canadian Pacific gained 2 1/8 and Reading, Southern Pacific, Vabash pf., Interborough Metropolitan pf., Amalgamated Copper and National Lead, large fractions. An extension of the opening advance carried a handful of the leading stocks up a point or more above yesterday's closing, including Union Pacific, Reading, Southern Pacific and Amalgamated Copper. Buying then slackened but the prices were well held.

A large proportion of the total dealings was in Reading and that stock's advance was the principal influence in pulling up prices elsewhere. The market was still almost wholly in traders' hands. Reading's gain reached two points. Bonds were irregular.

Although the undertone of the market continued strong, the demand of the market was so scanty that the transactions during the noon hour barely reached 16,000 shares. Northern Pacific and Louisville & Nashville improved a point.

The speculation was practically lifeless and fluctuations were insignificant.

The market closed heavy. Postponement of the Ches. & Ohio dividend meeting made the market heavy and caused a slight reaction.

WOMAN MAY DIE THE DREXEL MILLIONS WILL RESTORE RUINS OF ANOTHER CRUMBLING ENGLISH MANSION

Traces of Terrible Struggle in Danvers Home

DANVERS, May 19.—A probable murder followed by an attempt at suicide was brought to light this afternoon. Daniel Doherty, a motorman employed by the Boston & Northern Street Railway company, drank four ounces of nitric acid, and is expected to die. A search of his home disclosed the body of Mrs. Beatrice Rice, his housekeeper, lying on the floor, a clothes line pressed around her neck and the end tied to a door knob.

The room in which Mrs. Rice's body was found showed traces of a terrible struggle and it was from the appearance of this room that the authorities were led to believe that Doherty had strangled the woman before taking poison.

Doherty was about town during the forenoon. Attention was attracted to him by the fact that he had visited a number of drug stores, endeavoring to secure poison, but in every instance he was refused. Later he went to his home in the rear of 20 Porter street, where Mrs. Rice kept house for him. The police received information that things did not appear right at Doherty's house and an officer was sent there. As Doherty opened the door he took the policemen that he had just drunk a tumbler of nitric acid. He had stolen the poison, he said, inasmuch as none of the druggists would sell him any. A moment or two later he became unconscious. The physician who was summoned said that the man would undoubtedly die.

The reason for the tragedy is not known. Doherty was 18 years old, and Mrs. Rice a year younger. Mrs. Rice, it is said, had a husband living. She is also survived by a son and a daughter.

NEVER TOUCHED US

Transit of the Comet Passed Unnoticed in Lowell

Halley's comet and the earth, rushing in opposite directions like celestial trains passing a metropolitan station, came last night into line with each other and the sun, and the planetary habitation of man then swept for a contact of a few hours into the tail of the hairy star. Astronomers are not sure whether it was the mere tip or the body of the appendage that hit us, but it is certain not only that the conjunction did the earth no harm, but that it produced no phenomena which could be definitely and immediately traced to Halley's.

A royal salute of an aurora borealis seems to have been held off to some future occasion. For some reason peculiar to the wayward nature of the comet, the predicted shower of meteors was also postponed. Best of all, perhaps, the electric service was not noticeably interfered with, and the modern Puck went on pulling his gilded round the world in sheer defiance of the visitor from celestial spaces.

With the reappearance of the comet in the morning sky yesterday popular interest in Halley's seemed to diminish. In Lowell alone a legion of people turned themselves into stargazers. From very point commanding a view of the heavens the comet was watched for not only by single observers, but by considerable groups, even by organized "comet parties" numbering from a dozen to 50 people.

SCHOOLS CLOSED

Two Principals Reduced to Ranks

HAVERHILL, May 19.—Two principals in the public schools were reduced to the rank of teachers, four regular teachers, two of whom have been instructors in the high school for several years, were discharged, and the Greenleaf and Portland street schools were ordered closed at the end of the year by the school board at a regular meeting last evening. Walter F. Sayward, principal of the Cogswell school, whom the committee was planning to depose, was given the additional duty of principal of the Walnut square school.

The most important action of the committee was in closing the two schools, as there has been considerable opposition. It is believed that the change will result in an annual saving of about $9000.

Miss C. Frances Day who has been principal of the Walnut square school was reduced to a regular teacher, as was Miss Maria L. Gardner of the Portland street school.

The teachers dropped were Miss Nellie Moore and John F. Caskey in the high school, Miss Nellie J. Wentworth of the Walnut square school and Miss Elsie K. Smith of Boston, teacher in the manual training department. Resignations were received from Miss Isabel Hunt, Miss Annie W. C. Merrill and Miss Ada B. Berry.

PRESIDENT STREET CLOSED

Owing to the repaving of Prescott street, cars will leave the corner of Merrimack and Central streets for the following lines: Westford street, North Chelmsford, Chelmsford Centre, Lawrence and Fletcher streets.

STRUCK BY TRAIN HANGED HIMSELF POLICE CHANGES

Lowell Man Badly Hurt Young Man Suicide in Franklin Park Were Made by Mayor Gaynor Today

BOSTON, May 19.—The body of a young man was discovered hanging by a rope from the crossbar of an electric light pole on the circuit drive in Franklin park yesterday afternoon by Frank Dowd of 385 Washington street, Jamaica Plain.

Mr. Dowd hurried to the sub-police station of division 13 at the Overlook and notified Sergeant Thompson.

The police called Dr. Libby of 1990 Columbus avenue, who hurried to the scene and pronounced the man dead. Associate Medical Examiner Watter ordered the body removed to the City hospital morgue.

The suicide climbed to the top of the electric light pole, a distance of 25 feet, and after fastening the rope to the cross piece, adjusted the noose around his neck and dropped the length of the rope.

How long the body had been hanging from the pole is not known. The circuit drive is a main thoroughfare in the park and although the day was stormy a number of occupants of carriages must have passed the spot and park policemen, too, have to patrol that section quite frequently.

Capt. Harriman of division 13 found no mark of identification on the man and no letter or card that would aid to identification.

The young man was about 25 or 27 years old, 5 feet 7 inches in height and weighed about 125 pounds. He had a smooth face, brown hair and blue eyes, medium complexion. He was dressed in black trousers, dark mixed colored coat, no vest, black shirt, no collar, gray stockings and gray golf cap.

He is the son of Peter J. and Della Hunt, and has four brothers and five sisters.

This afternoon it was learned that the right leg was so badly injured that it was necessary to amputate it above the knee. The left leg was only bruised and the doctors entertain every hope for his recovery.

HE KILLED FRIEND

Man Thought Revolver Was Empty

NEW YORK, May 19.—After he had shot and killed his best friend yesterday, Herbert K. Conway of Harrison, N. J., threw himself, weeping, on the body and fainted.

Conway was talking with Joseph Felpman at Felpman's place of business in Harrison. He picked up a revolver which someone had left lying nearby.

"Put it down; it's loaded!" Felpman cried.

Conway laughed and said it was empty. To prove it, he pointed it at Felpman and snapped the trigger. His friend fell to the floor, shot through the head, Conway, hysterical in his grief, fell on his body, begging him to come to life. When he found that Felpman was dead he became unconscious. Later he was committed to jail.

DIAMOND NOTES

Haverhill today.

No wonder it hurts Tom Fleming to smile. Read the following from Sporting News:
Manager Tom Fleming of the Haverhill, Mass., club has been a victim of misplaced confidence. Supposing that he was doing business with a catcher named Shultz, the young backstop who accompanied the Boston team on their southern training trip, Fleming forwarded a contract and transportation to a player who assumed the name of Shultz who immediately decided to sidetrack the engagement. Thus far the transportation money has not been returned. The manager of the young man—well known in local city league circles—and will wait to hear his side of the case before I publish his name.

There was nothing doing all over the circuit yesterday.

Manager Gray has signed a new catcher, Hurrell of Providence and he will appear in this afternoon's game.

Harold Danzig, former first baseman of the Lowell team has met his fate and is to be married at Sacramento, Cal., to Miss Jean Carter, daughter of George Carter of San Francisco. Miss Carter and her sister live in Honolulu, and were on their way home when they met Danzig.

No more home games this week.

Moore or Boules will pitch today.

Pitcher Larry Pape of the Boston Americans was today purchased by Manager Flanagan of the Brooklyn New England league baseball team. He will join the Brooklyn club tomorrow and pitch against the Lynn team in the afternoon at the Centre street grounds.

Pape was bought after a conference yesterday and today between Manager Flanagan, President John I. Taylor and Manager Pat Dowling of the Boston team, the Boston team having option of re-purchase at the end of the season. Pape agreed to terms this morning and declared he would be here tomorrow.

Lee last season, being purchased during the middle of the season by the Red Sox after a string of victories. The purchase price then was said to be $2500. He finished the season with the Red Sox, pitching 11 games. He batted .148, making three hits in 21 times at bat. He held for several weeks in Cincinnati, and his first professional experience was with Milwaukee last season.

Pape is a young man of promise. He pitched several games for the Red Sox at Hot Springs this spring and gave a good account of himself. He is a tall, rangy chap and a right-handed thrower and batter.—Brooklyn Times.

Fitzpatrick is one of the best second basemen in the league, and he is in the game every minute. Catching Metz at third in the fifth inning, when the ball was thrown to second to prevent Burg from stealing, was a piece of quick thinking.—Lynn Item.

So Red Rorty has quit umpiring, not because of illness, but because he is tired of umpiring in a bush league. Red must be real serious with himself since that little notoriety with President Lynch of the National league some weeks ago.—Brooklyn Times.

Something new in the line of baseball publications has just appeared in the "Bull" Durham Baseball Guide, a handsomely bound copy of which has just been received.

The publication is the first in the history of the game that has given due space to the all important schedules. Added to this feature are many others which will make a place for the Guide in the hearts of the fans.

The sponsor of the book is the Baseball Publishing company of Boston, and the arrangement and contents of the Guide reflect much credit on the publishers.

DEMOCRATIC UNION MET
WORK, N. J., JAN. 19.—Three United States senators—all democrats—attended the gospel of "Back to the Constitution" here last night, at a singing in Krueger auditorium, held the auspices of the Democratic of New Jersey.

The meeting was arranged by leadership of the union as the beginning of a movement which they hope will assume a national aspect, demanding a return to government in accordance with the stricter interpretation of the constitution and opposed to the special interests. The speakers were Senators Joseph A. Bailey of Alabama and Joseph W. Johnston of Alabama.

THREE DOLLARS PER YEAR. TWENTY-FIVE CENTS PER MONTH

The sworn daily average circulation of The Lowell Sun for the year 1909 was

16,828

Sworn to by John H. Harrington, proprietor, Martin H. Reidy, business manager, and Alfred Pilotte, pressman, of The Sun, before me, January 1, 1910. J. JOSEPH HENNESSY, Notary Public.

This is by far the largest average circulation of any newspaper in Lowell.

FOR A SANER FOURTH.

The legislature seems disposed to pass the bill providing for a saner Fourth of July. Everybody wants the national holiday observed with less danger and with less noise. The former affects the people who celebrate, the latter those who remain in their homes. It is a torture to the sick, the aged and the nervous as well as to the very young children. If the legislature passes the bill providing for the elimination of dangerous features, it is likely that it will be effectually enforced as there is a strong sentiment in favor of such a law.

NEW AUTO FACTORY COMING.

The Board of Trade finds an automobile company anxious to secure a location for a factory in this city. We have a great many excellent locations. Lowell, too, is a great city for automobiles. It seems as if the craze is spreading rapidly. It must have taken deep root in Lowell when it is not an uncommon thing for men to sell their houses in order to secure automobiles. These, of course, are extreme cases. The legitimate buyers are increasing every day, and the dealers must be reaping large profits. Already we have a great many garages and another fine one is to be located at the corner of East Merrimack and Stackpole streets. Let us keep up the reputation of Lowell as an auto racing centre and we may ultimately have several factories here.

EXTORTIONS THAT SHOULD BE STOPPED.

The Board of Charity touched upon a question of great importance in exposing the workings of the money-lending system that makes a poor man pay $9 for $5 loaned and $25 for $10 loaned. This is nothing more or less than a system of manufacturing paupers, and it should be suppressed in some way. If pawnbrokers are the offenders in such cases they should lose their licenses on being found guilty of any such extortion. If it be the money lenders other than pawnbrokers, then something should be done to expose their methods of taking advantage of the occasional necessities of wage earners to extort from 200 to 300 per cent for their loans, the time usually never extending over six months. This abuse was effectually suppressed in Boston and there is no reason why the same should not be done here.

TO MUZZLE THE PRESS.

An effort is being made in certain quarters to make it illegal for newspapers to publish reports of prize fights.

Would it not be the more constitutional plan to make prize fights illegal? If the press can be prevented from publishing a true account of what happens at a prize fight, why not also put an interdiction on police court news, divorce news and scandals of every kind.

The fact is, this talk about the alleged injury resulting from the proper publication of certain occurrences is all nonsense. If the publication were forbidden the evils would be greatly multiplied, but according to the assumption of those who would muzzle the press, it is all right to commit crimes if the newspapers say nothing about it.

Already a number of British peers have arranged to attend the Jeffries-Johnson fight and doubtless a number of congressmen and other public officials would also attend if they could rely upon the newspapers not publishing their names. The press would not be free if the news of prize fights could be suppressed. But the constitution says: "Congress shall make no law abridging free speech or the freedom of the press." That should stop any such absurd effort at muzzling the press as is proposed.

TO MAKE THE MERRIMACK NAVIGABLE.

If the Board of Trade can arouse fresh interest in the subject of navigating the Merrimack river from Lowell to the sea, it will have rendered a real service to the city. It seems that the river could easily be made navigable at least below Lowell, if the government appropriated the money. The Merrimack from Lowell to Lawrence is deeper and wider than from Lawrence to Haverhill, while from the latter city to the sea it is in fairly good condition for ordinary vessels.

The government expends vast sums upon the widening and deepening of rivers and harbors in different parts of the country. Why not spend a portion of this money for the principal river in New England, the Merrimack? Had our members of congress done their full duty in the past the river might now be navigable from Lowell to the sea.

What would this mean? Lower freight rates on coal and other commodities used in manufacturing. If Lowell could get her coal up the river from tide water the saving from the supply for the entire city would be enormous.

Strange to say there will be found those who will oppose this project for the cheap transportation of coal. They will do it for selfish reasons; but their word or their influence should receive little attention as they are working for their own selfish interest or else as the paid agents of concerns whose aim it is to keep freight rates as high as possible.

The Lowell factories have a permanent bonanza from Nature in the water power furnished by the Merrimack, and if they could purchase coal at a little over tide water prices they could compete against the world. Fall River and New Bedford have little water power, but they have the advantage of low freight rates for coal. Assuming that our annual coal supply for Lowell is 500,000 tons and that 25 cents a ton could be saved by bringing the coal up the river, there would be a clear saving of $125,000 to start with. That saving would soon pay the entire cost of the improvements.

BUTTRICK WILL

Chadwick Made Executor

The will of the late Martha M. Buttrick of this city, who died March 9, 1910, was allowed by Judge Chamberlain in the probate court at Cambridge today. Austin K. Chadwick, this city was appointed executor and furnished a bond of $150,000. The estate is valued at $97,000, $7000 of which is real estate and the $90,000 in personal property. The house, land and furniture at her late home, 383 Westford street, is, according to the provisions of the will, left to the Lowell Y. M. C. A. to be used as a permanent home for the secretary of that association in memory of her brother, James G. Buttrick, who was greatly interested in the Y. M. C. A. To the Concord (Mass.) Antiquarian society is left a large collection of papers and antiques, which is to be known as the John and Lucetta Buttrick Memorial room. To the Highland Congregational church $100 to be known as the Martha A. Buttrick Bible fund to purchase bibles to be awarded for the primary department of the Sunday school of that church. The Lowell W. C. T. U. is to receive $300, $500 is to go to the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, $3000 to the Lowell Y. M. C. A. building fund, and $1000 each to the Congregational Educational society, Congregational Missionary society, Congregational Church Building society, and the American Missionary association.

ANOTHER ARREST

Mrs. Taylor Held as Witness in Bill Keliher Case

BOSTON, May 13.—Mrs. Margaret L. Taylor, who was detained at Concord, N. H., today as a witness in the National City bank case, is a young woman who had been friendly with George W. Coleman, the bank's bookkeeper, who yesterday was sentenced to serve 15 years in the Greenfield jail for embezzling $300,000 from the institution. Coleman and Mrs. Taylor attended the same school in Cambridge and were neighbors for some time. Several years ago Mrs. Taylor and her husband separated and a divorce followed. The federal authorities claim that Mrs. Taylor was frequently entertained by Coleman and that she was one of a number of the bookkeeper's friends who visited the bank occasionally. The government officials do not make any charge against the young woman. They desire to know if she can furnish information concerning the relations between William J. Keliher, who is on trial on a charge of aiding Coleman in looting the bank, and the bookkeeper. At the time the bank was closed Mrs. Taylor was in New York.

TWO FIRE ALARMS

Called Out Department Last Night

An alarm from box 232 at 8.50 o'clock last night summoned a portion of the fire department to a lively blaze in the shop of the American Wire Goods Co. in Bridge street opposite Seventh street. The fire started in a pipe which connects the boiler with the brick chimney, but was extinguished before any material damage was done.

Fire in the Pollard House
The members of Eugene Co. No. 4 were called to the residence of A. G. Pollard, in Mansur street at 8.13 o'clock last night to extinguish a fire which started in the chimney. Just as the evening was raw and damp a fire was started in the fireplace and the sparks set fire to the chimney and the fire threatened the house, but the timely arrival of the apparatus prevented a bad blaze.

PLEASING ENTERTAINMENTS
HELD IN VESTRIES
"Mr. Boh," a pleasing little comedy well known to amateur actors in this vicinity, was given last night by the young people of the First Unitarian Congregational church in the church vestry. The parts were well taken and the play, so full of humor and funny situations, was much enjoyed.

Highland Congregational
"Hunker's P. O." was repeated at the Highland Congregational church last night by the same cast which gave the comedy in Highland hall on the night of May 5. There was a large attendance and the performance was well liked.

PATENTS GRANTED

Among the recent patents of local interest secured through the office of Gardner W. Pearson, Esq., are the following:
Patent on sizing composition for warps to Abel Verneleisch and Noel Veselust. This composition has already gone into extensive use, and is in great demand.
Patent on finishing processes for treating woolen and worsted dress goods to Robert T. Todd and Richard R. Batty. This process and the machine by which it is operated take the place of the slow and unsatisfactory processes of steaming and crumpling. The process is continuous and permits one man to do the work of six with a much more even result.

MORSE LAWYER FAMOUS ACTRESS

Sees Chance to Free Clara Morris is Not Improved

BOSTON, May 13.—A legal technicality brought to light yesterday when George F. Coleman, the self-confessed Cambridge bank wrecker was given a fifteen year prison sentence may be used in an attempt to secure the release of Charles W. Morse, the New York banker and financier, from the Federal prison at Atlanta, Ga. Walter Reid, an attorney who represents the Morse interests in this section, was an interested listener at Coleman's trial yesterday and he believes that his client can be discharged from Atlanta on the same grounds that prevented Coleman from being sentenced to the federal institution, namely, that the federal statutes governing such cases do not provide for hard labor in prison when they specify that only prisoners sentenced to hard labor shall be confined at Atlanta.

ISAAC C. WYMAN

Salem Millionaire Passed Away

SALEM, May 19.—Isaac Chauncey Wyman, reputed to be one of the wealthiest men in this section, died at his home on Lafayette street, yesterday morning of disease incident to old age.

He is thought to have been worth between 20 and 30 million of dollars, the greater part of which is in real estate. His possessions include property in every state in the union, and nearly two-thirds of the real estate in the town of Marblehead, Mass. It was his boast that he could walk from his home in this city, near the Marblehead line, to the other extreme end of the latter town, without stepping a foot from his own land.

Mr. Wyman lived in a small, unpretentious house, with a housekeeper as his only companion. He never married and was considered penurious in the extreme. His only living relative is a Mrs. Susan Dickerson.

He was born in Marblehead, Jan. 21, 1828, and was graduated from Princeton in 1848 with the degree of A. M. He later graduated from Harvard law school. He practiced law in Boston for about 12 years and then went into the real estate business, with headquarters at Marblehead. It was his practice to buy up waste or unimproved land and hold it for increased value.

Mr. Wyman was well known in banking circles in the vicinity of Lynn and Salem and his advice was much sought by men of business.

HELD IN $1000

Men Are Charged With Conspiracy

LAWRENCE, May 19.—Probable cause was found in police court here yesterday afternoon against George Yelland, Timothy Murphy and William Yelland on charges of conspiracy in connection with an alleged wholesale sale of goods from the Arlington mills, and they were each bound over to the grand jury, the first two in the sum of $1000 each and the latter in $500.

Sarah Kimmell was sentenced to jail for 30 days for receiving stolen property. Sarah Rosenberg waited examination on a charge of receiving from Yelland and Murphy and she was bound over to the grand jury in the sum of $1000.

WOMAN HELD

SHE IS CHARGED WITH ASSAULT ON GIRLS

LYNN, May 19.—For alleged participation in two assaults committed on Tuesday night upon strikebreakers employed at the factory of the Watson Shoe company, where they had been on strike for some time, Annie Goe, 34 years old, of 4 Oxford street, an operative in another factory, was arrested by Reserve Officer Smith last night.

In addition to the two charges alleging that she assaulted each of the girls, Miss Goe will also be charged with disorderly conduct in a public place.

Tuesday night the strikebreakers were followed from the factory by quite a crowd of strikers and sympathizers. The girls sought refuge in the Sutton street police station and, after the crowd had been dispersed, they quietly left the building by a rear entrance. It was then that the alleged assaults were committed.

LE REVEIL COMPANY

The stockholders of Le Reveil Publishing company, which publishes newspapers in Manchester, Lowell and Providence, held a meeting on Monday at the Providence office and voted to sell the entire property. If possible, the three papers now published in New Hampshire, Massachusetts and Rhode Island will be sold in bulk or in one parcel as the auctioneers say, but unless satisfactory terms are offered they will be sold separately. It is understood that the papers regularly uniting the owners take possession in order that there may be no break in the business.

Attorney Mederic Guilbault of Manchester, president of the publishing company, presided at Monday's meeting and it is said that there was no material opposition to the suggestion that the affairs of the company be wound up at once and that all property be turned into cash. A committee was selected to look after this business, consisting of Mederic Guilbault of Manchester, chairman, Burns P. Hodgman of Concord, and Michel N. Cartier of Providence. Messrs. Hodgman and Cartier are receivers for the New England Investment Co., which held a controlling share of stock in Le Reveil company and Mr. Cartier was general manager of the N. E. I. Co. when it went into the receivers' hands.

BABY WHALE

WAS CAUGHT BY PROVINCE TOWN FISHERS

PROVINCETOWN, May 19.—The body of an infant found within the fish weir of the Frates crew at South Truro today was yesterday brought to the Consolidated Veil company's wharf, where crowds of spectators quickly gathered. It was the handsomest and healthiest of babies, and one of the biggest as well, it being no less than 12-1/2 feet in length. This infant was of the finback whale variety, the smallest specimen ever captured within a weir, if not the smallest ever caught without the mother in these waters.

Fat, bright colored and without blemish upon that side which lay uppermost as the little whale rested upon the pier, it was pronounced the most perfect specimen. It will be towed out of the harbor and cast adrift this afternoon, as no one cares to expend the time and labor in securing the trifling quantity of oil contained in the blubber.

Frates and crew killed the whale with difficulty. Using a boat gaff, a sledge and oars they beat and banded the lively, if young, creature into unconsciousness after a prolonged fight, during which the men were wetted by spray dashed upon them by the flying

It seems strange that so many mothers do not know that when children are sick the first thing to do is to "look for worms first."

It is a fact that worms in stomach or bowels is the cause of three out of every four sick spells in children. There are over fifty different kinds of worms that can live in the stomach or bowels and cause great harm to health. If your child is puny, pale, sickly or fretful, follow that wise saying "think of worms first."

Here are some of the many signs by which you may learn that your child has worms. Watch carefully for these symptoms: sunken eyes, pallor around the mouth and lips, dimness of eyes, itching of nose, bloated face or abdomen, paleness, swollen lips, offensive breath. Also choking, swallowing, starting or groaning in sleep, dry cough, bed-wetting, milky urine, vomiting. Child may also be cross and peevish.

You may now give the medicine that kills the worms and casts them forever out of the system. It is "Fessenden's Worm Expeller." The price of it is only 26 cents. For this small sum your child's life may be saved.

Hooks of the frenzied whale, and men who held to the ropes which had been attached to the body were nearly hauled into the sea.

BOSTON DENTIST

Thinks He's Heir to a Great Estate

BOSTON, May 19.—Believing that he and his brother Harry are heirs to a portion of the $120,000,000 Springer estate in Wilmington, Del., Dr. O. M. Springer, a dentist with offices at 55 Chambers street, has sent to his former home in Austria for evidence to prove his claims.

Dr. Springer stated last night that as yet he has but little evidence of his right to a share in the large estate, which covers a large portion of the center of Delaware's largest city, but that he expects the tracing of the records in Austria will prove his claims. Two brothers and a cousin in New York city are also said to be heirs, but Dr. Springer said they also have little proof of their contention.

No other claimants to the estate could be found in this city yesterday, although it is said a meeting of the family will be held in the city soon, preparatory to a fight for the estate. Of this meeting Dr. Springer had no knowledge.

PASTOR AND WIFE

GIVEN ANNUAL RECEPTION AT GORHAM STREET CHURCH

The Gorham Street Methodist church was the scene last evening of the annual reception to the pastor, Rev. N. W. Matthews, and Mrs. Matthews, by the society of the church. It has been customary ever since the society was formed to tender a reception to the pastor and his wife after their return from the annual conference. This was the 14th event in the pastorate of Rev. N. W. Matthews. The exercises last evening opened at 8 o'clock with Thomas Gardiner in the chair.

The pastor and his wife were escorted into the vestry by Ambrose Hinde. Albert Ingham played a march during the reception.

After the reception the congregation sang "Blest be the Tie That Binds," followed by prayer by Joseph Sutcliffe. Letters of regret were read by the chairman from Rev. B. A. Willmott and H. W. Hook.

Rev. C. E. Fisher of the First Unitarian church was introduced, and spoke of the pleasant relationship existing between himself and the pastor. He spoke of the standing that Mr. Matthews held among the pastors of the various churches throughout the city and was very much pleased that he had returned to Lowell for another year.

Joseph Sutcliffe spoke of the conference session in his usual manner. Mrs. Clogston presented both Mr. and Mrs. Matthews beautiful bouquets from the Ladies' Aid society.

Rev. J. T. Olm of the Lawrence street church spoke of the good work the pastor is doing in this city. Charles Philbrick of the Mt. Zion lodge of Good Templars presented the pastor a beautiful basket of flowers from that order.

Rev. Mr. Matthews spoke of the work of the past years and the bright outlook for the future. He also thanked the various societies of the church for the beautiful bouquets.

Mrs. Matthews was called upon and expressed her thanks.

Little Lorraine Leith presented Mr. Matthews a bouquet from the junior league of the church.

Refreshments were served in the social hall by a committee from the Ladies' Aid, consisting of Mrs. J. T. Norris chairman, Mrs. William Cochran, Mrs. Thomas Higginbottom, Mrs. Fred Leith, Mrs. J. Bramhall, Mrs. W. Thompson, Mrs. J. A. Flendel, Mrs. Clegg, Mrs. J. Craib and Mrs. George Chapman.

Ten young men from the Tower class acted as ushers as follows: Messrs. Orrin Taylor, Richard Campbell, Fred Matthews, James Brown, George Dennett, Guy McQuade, George Higginbottom, Orrin McKenzie, Joseph Madden was chief usher.

THE BIG FIGHT

Will Take Place in 'Frisco

SAN FRANCISCO, May 19.—There is much rejoicing among fight followers over Tex Rickard's announcement last night, that Jeffries and Johnson will battle in this city for the world's heavyweight championship July 4. It has been many years since a 15 round fight was held in San Francisco, owing to the city ordinance which provides for boxing matches of limited duration. This has been construed as 20 rounds, but it is understood no barrier will be raised against an extension of the contest.

"I have not been apprised that the contest is to be held in this city and I have not considered the matter. The board of supervisors has not granted the promoters a permit yet, but there is a law allowing boxing matches and I cannot see the difference between Jeffries and Johnson fighting and other professional fighters who have been boxing here. MILLS CLOSED

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 19.—Approximately 3000 employees of the American Woolen Co. were thrown out of work last night and today when that company closed its three mills in this city and in Olneyville for the remainder of the week, thereby establishing a three day work week schedule. None of the three mills of the company has been running full time for several months, caused, it is believed, by the lack of orders.

A BATTLE ROYAL

Axe Used in Fight at Waverley

WAVERLEY, May 19.—William Wallace, 40, a street foreman in the town employ, is believed to be dying at his home, 68 Chapel road, as the result of wounds received in a fight which took place in a room in the old town hall in Waverley square late yesterday afternoon.

Two axes, a baseball bat and three empty bottles figured as weapons in the melee, a result of which all the men bear marks of battle.

John McCloskey and Joseph Chandler of Waverley and Frank McNeal of Watertown, Wallace's companions, were placed under arrest, and are held pending the outcome of Wallace's injuries.

The men, it is said, had been drinking heavily, and none appears to know just what led up to the quarrel which precipitated the fight. In the fracas Wallace was struck over the head with the blunt end of an axe, causing a bad fracture of the skull.

The crime in the little shed attracted Police Officer John

Argy to the scene. He burst in the door, and the fighting ceased as he entered.

Wallace lay on the floor unconscious the blood flowing from wounds about his head. McCloskey, Chandler and McNeal gave themselves up without a struggle and accompanied Officer Argy to the lockup.

Joe Choyinski with Halley's comet as a text is reported to have discoursed learnedly on the elevating subject of astronomy in pursuance of the esthetic uplift movement that he threatened some time ago to inject into Jeffries' training operations.

If Jim were edited by Joe's soaring dissertation he did not let on. His rumored comment was, "Close your yap, Joe, you're scaring the fish!"

Bob Armstrong, a sparring partner, has no particular use for comets and he kept his rabbit's foot behind his left ear.

BOARD OF TRADEElects John H. Murphy Secretary*---Other Matters

John H. Murphy, the popular and efficient clerk in the supply department at city hall, was elected secretary of the board of trade yesterday afternoon to succeed John A. McKenna, resigned.

The election took place at a meeting of the board of directors, in accordance with the by-laws. Mr. Murphy received 13 votes; Mr. Joseph where he soon so entrenched himself by his ability and hard work that his superiors look upon his resignation with the deepest regret.

Mr. Murphy has been on various civil service lists for some years. He first passed successfully the examinations for the general clerical list, from which he was appointed to his position at city hall. He is at the present time first on the health inspector's list, first on the health foreman's list, and second on the water inspector's list. He is also on the state list.

Of genial disposition, with much personal magnetism and a host of friends, Mr. Murphy has always been interested in fraternal affairs. He is at the present time lecturer of the Knights of Columbus, and is an ex-president of the C. Y. M. L., and the Franklin Debating club. He is also a member of the Holy Name society of St. Patrick's church.

Mr. Murphy is married and has one daughter. He makes his home at 128 M. Washington street.

After the election the meeting took up the regular business before it. A letter was read from an automobile concern, manufacturing commercial automobiles, asking what facilities could be offered in Lowell for a plant employing 500 men or more. This was referred to the committee on new industries.

A telephone message was received yesterday from Col. Edward Burr of the United States coast survey, saying that he would arrive in Lowell on Saturday morning to consult with the board of trade and business men concerning the use of the Merrimack river as a waterway for transportation from the sea.

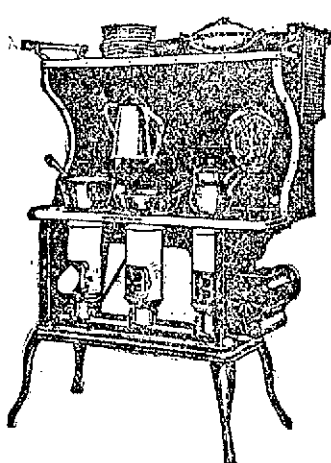

The directors voted to ask the committee on transportation of which F. C. Garrett is the chairman, to meet Col. Burr and see that he obtained all the information he wished and, incidentally, get from him all the information they could as to the feasibility of making the Merrimack river navigable. In this matter the cities along the Merrimack are making a concerted campaign and some progress has already been made.

Surveys have been made of parts of the river. It has been stated in Washington by the coast survey that the damming of the river from Lowell to the sea is feasible and would be valuable.

To foster this idea the commercial bodies of the cities in the Merrimack valley are working. Col. Burr will be the guest of the board of trade here on Saturday. Vice President James O'Sullivan will be acting president on that day and a number of business men are to be asked to join the committee in the day's discussions and sightseeing.

The new members admitted at the meeting were Paul B. Weston, Arthur J. Holbrook, William S. Currier and Regan and Kerwin.

SUPREME COURT

Decides in Favor of the Town of Nahant

BOSTON, May 19.—The inhabitants of the town of Nahant win in the suit brought against them by Frederick R. Sears and other executors under the will of the late Frederick R. Sears, for an abatement of the $44,000 tax levied by the town on personal property valued at $4,000,000. An opinion yesterday by the full bench of the supreme court upholds the judgment of Justice Crosby of the superior court, who dismissed the executor's petition.

The assessment was objected to as excessive, disproportionate and illegal. Application was first made to the Nahant assessors for an abatement, but they declined to lower the figure. The assessors stated, and were later sustained in their assertion by the superior court, that a list of property which should have been furnished them under the statutes was not given seasonably, and that they had to make their assessment on such information as they had at hand.

The superior court found that the town and the assessors acted in good faith and that the executors had not shown a reasonable excuse for their delay in presenting the list.

GERMAN KAISER

Arrived in London at Noon Today

LONDON, May 19.—Emperor William arrived in London at noon today.

The German imperial yacht Hohenzollern reached Sheerness last evening, but his majesty did not land until this morning, when he proceeded to the capital. The greeting of King George and the emperor was most affectionate. As the emperor and king drove to Buckingham palace great crowds in the streets exhibited a lively interest in the German ruler.

The men raised their hats and the women waved their handkerchiefs as the royal carriage passed. Arriving at the palace the emperor was taken at once to the apartments of the queen mother, Alexandra.

PEACE CONFERENCE

MOHONK LAKE, N. Y., May 19.—The international judicial arbitration court was this topic as a discussion at the peace conference today. Simon D. Baldwin former chief justice of the supreme court of Connecticut, led the speaking. He pointed out some of the faults of the present court of nations set up at the first Hague conference and expressed a hope that the proposition to make the judges of the international prize court ex-officio judges of the court of arbitral justice, which was endorsed by this government last year, would receive general endorsement.

H. B. MacFarland of Washington, former commissioner of the District of Columbia, declared that this proposition favored by Secretary Knox in a circular note to the powers last October would be adopted and that its success would in after years be considered the greatest achievement of the Taft administration.

Household Remedy

Taken in the Spring for Years.

Ralph Rust, Willis, Mich., writes: "Hood's Sarsaparilla has been a household remedy in our home as long as I can remember. I have taken it in the spring for several years. It has no equal for cleansing the blood and expelling the humors that accumulate during the winter. Being a farmer and exposed to bad weather, my system is often affected, and I often take Hood's Sarsaparilla with good results. Hood's Sarsaparilla is peculiar to itself. There is no 'just as good.' Get it today in usual liquid form or tablets called Sarsapabs."

Health and Beauty Queries

BY MRS. MAE MARTIN

Madge: Very frequently a dark, coarse-looking complexion comes from the failure of the skin to remove all dirt from the pores of the skin. If you will dissolve an ounce of alumina in a half-pint of cold water, then add a teaspoonful of glycerine, stir and allow to stand a few hours, you will have a splendid cream jelly for clearing up your skin. This cream is greaseless, and will not cause hair to grow on the face. I find it excellent for softening and smoothing the skin and for reducing the size of large pores. It is due for massaging to remove wrinkles, and if you will use it regularly you will soon have a charming, velvety complexion.

A. H. C.: You say you used delatone last summer to remove superfluous hair from your face and forehead, but that it has grown again, very light and thin. This is the experience of many who have used delatone. One application is not always sufficient to permanently remove the annoying hair. Mix a little delatone with enough water to make a paste and cover with it the skin from which you wish to remove the hair. Let it remain two or three minutes; then wash off and wash with warm water. This second application will be effective and the hairs will not return.

Bernice B.: Your hair will never look its best and be easy to do up as long as you continue to shampoo with soap. The alkali in soap and most ready-prepared shampoos eats the very life out of your hair, makes it harsh and brittle, and causes those faded, discolored streaks you speak of. Most shampoos simply remove the oil and dirt from the hair, but do not take out the dirt from the hair-roots which causes itching, scalp, dandruff and finally dead, falling hair with split ends. If you will shampoo your hair with a teaspoonful of carboxol dissolved in a quart of water you will find it most delightful. This shampoo produces a rich, creamy lather that cleanses thoroughly, gives elasticity and leaves the hair soft, lustrous and the scalp feeling fresh. This is by far the best shampoo I ever tried, and my friends, to whom I have recommended it, find it to be simply splendid.

Chorus Lady: There is nothing better for sore, tired and aching feet than putting them in a basin of warm water, in which you have dissolved two teaspoonfuls of phosol. This treatment is better than foot powder, for it opens up the pores and draws out the waste matter. Relief comes immediately and the soreness and swelling disappear. Regular use of phosol will tighten and harden your tender feet.

Jane R.: Your sallow, pimply complexion comes from impure blood. You should not neglect this any longer.

of bed linen from Fall River line steamer Commonwealth and were fined $20 each. Recently steamboat officials discovered a man who had fully furnished his home with stolen linen. He was caught and is now in jail. He gave the name of Hill and answers the description given by Mrs. Hill of her husband.

SAM WALTER FOSS CLUB

The Sam Walter Foss literary club held a very interesting meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. Gilmore, 95 Jenness street, with Mrs. Gilmore and Mrs. F. L. Balcom as hostesses.

The president, Mrs. A. F. French, opened the meeting and after a short business session an interesting program was presented by Mrs. F. L. Balcom, chairman for the afternoon. The possibility of having a saner evening July celebration was discussed in a paper read by Mrs. W. H. Upham. This was followed by a vocal solo, entitled "Peace," by Miss Grace Smith. The following interesting papers were contributed, relating to the "Life and Stage Work of Ellen Terry," by Mrs. F. L. Balcom; "Her Married Life," by Mrs. Charles Rushworth; "Ellen Terry's Stage Life" by Mrs. W. A. Wheeler. Mrs. Belle Harrington Hall was presented and gave some of her very enjoyable readings, and Miss Smith favored the club with vocal solos. At the close of this most delightful program a rising vote of thanks was given the ladies who assisted in the entertaining.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, assisted by Mrs. Charles H. Howard, Miss Bernice Rushworth, Miss Grace Smith and Mrs. S. A. Pickering.

The next regular meeting of the club will be held at the home of Mrs. Harry F. Cady, Tynesboro, Mass.

tonight. If the moon which most astronomers regard as a nuisance were not near its greatest brilliancy the view of the comet during the next week would be much finer. Again, if the tail has not decreased in length the end of it will not set until after midnight so that while the head will disappear or follow half an hour after the sun below the western horizon the tail will continue to stream upward for several hours. It is expected that the tail will show a distinct inclination instead of pointing straight to the zenith.

What astronomers want mostly is a clear, black night and such conditions cannot be hoped for until next week, or after the full moon.

WILL NOT PASS THROUGH TAIL.
SAN JOSE, Cal., May 19.—According to Dr. Campbell of Lick observatory the earth may not pass through the comet's tail after all. He said early today: "The tail was visible as soon as the moon set. It is probable that we shall miss passing through the tail tonight because it is lagging by several million miles. The comet's orbit is inclined to an angle with the earth's orbit and it is probable we shall not pass through the tail at all."

OBSERVATIONS AT PRINCETON.
PRINCETON, N. J., May 19.—The earth did not plunge through the tail of Halley's comet at the time scheduled by astronomers, according to Prof. Henry Norris Russell of Princeton and Zschawane Daniel the discoverer of three comets but was several hours late in making the journey. This failure of the comet to be on time, they said today, was due to the fact that the tail had developed a pronounced curve and it was long after sun-up in this section of the country before the passage of the earth through the comet's appendage.

Prof. Lowell at 2:45 a. m. noted a distinct streak of light in the east that resembled the milky way.

At the time he said the head of the comet had passed the disc of the sun and was on the other side of the sun.

Shortly after 2 a. m. the light in the east disappeared and Prof. Russell said it was possible for the inhabitants of Hawaii and possibly the astronomers at the Lick observatory in California to detect in the darkness the passage of the earth through the tail.

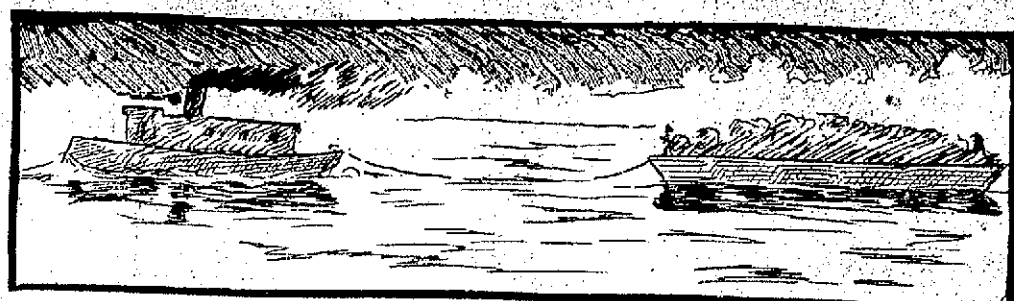

Prof. Russell added that the reason why most astronomers had not been able to tell that the tail was curved was because they had been looking at the tail edgewise.

Mr. Daniel who also noticed the light in the east shortly before 3 a. m. expressed the belief that the passage of the earth through the tail would make the curve more pronounced. The time at which the earth made the passage, he said, could not be ascertained at Princeton because the arc of the curve was not known there.

Mr. Daniel explained that it was not unusual for comet tails to be curved and said that the comet of January, 1910, had a distinct curved tail.

WIRES NOT DISTURBED.
CHICAGO, May 19.—Commercial telegraph companies feared the passage of the earth through the comet's tail would have an effect upon their wires similar to that of the aurora borealis, which is responsible for ground currents, making the transmission of dispatches impossible. No disturbances were reported, however, except a slight interference which was felt on the wires of one company between Vancouver and Regina in Alberta. Even this was not believed to be attributable to the comet as auroral displays in the far north are not unusual at this season of the year. None of the wireless companies reported interference with the transmission of dispatches.

AT JOHANNESBURG.
JOHANNESBURG, May 19.—According to the observations made at the Transvaal observatory of which R.

IF THE MERRIMACK WAS NAVIGABLE TO THE SEA

T. A. Innes is the director, the earth had not traversed the tail of Halley's comet at dawn today. The tail was still north of the ecliptic and at the observatory it was thought probable that the earth would pass considerably to the south of it.

NO GLIMPSE OF COMET.
BOSTON, May 19.—Officials at Harvard observatory did not obtain a single glimpse of Halley's comet last night or early today and were unable to definitely state today whether or not the earth had passed through the tail of the rapidly moving visitor of the skies. It was admitted that the bright moonlight may have shut out the view of an illumination from the comet's tail and some of the observers said that the earth had probably passed through the tail without it becoming apparent. The presence of cyanogen gas, they said, could not be determined until reports could be received from Harvard's astronomical station at Arequipa, Peru, where special attention was to be given the gas. No effects of the comet were felt on wireless telegraph instruments in this vicinity.

PROF. HALL'S VIEWS.
WASHINGTON, May 19.—Professor Asap Hall of the naval observatory said at 4 o'clock this morning that the earth would not pass through the tail of Halley's comet until some time today. From 2 o'clock this morning until dawn, said Prof. Hall, there was visible in the east extending from the northeast in a southerly direction the dim beam of a light of the comet tail. As the moon descended westward the shaft athwart the heavens grew plain and was easily visible to the naked eye.

GOT PHOTOGRAPHS.
YERKES OBSERVATORY, Williams Bay, Wis., May 19.—As the earth passed through the tail of Halley's comet, astronomers at the Yerkes observatory last night obtained photographs and accurate records of meteoric phenomena and varying heavenly illumination under atmospheric conditions nearly perfect for work with camera and telescope. The pictures and data are said to be of unusual value, and may develop scientific information and theories of unexpected importance.

"The passing of the comet," said Prof. Barnard, "will greatly enrich science. I consider the negative phenomena observed tonight as of as great value to science as positive phenomena."

According to first computations from observations made here, the earth entered the million mile breadth of tail at a combined speed of forty and fifty miles a second, but before an observation could be made the clouds closed in and the sun was not again visible during the day.

SPOTS ON THE SUN.
CAMBRIDGE, May 19.—A sudden opening of the clouds late yesterday revealed to one of the astronomers on watch at the Harvard observatory "spots" on the sun. The telescope was adjusted, but before an observation could be made the clouds closed in and the sun was not again visible during the day.

REFUSED TO WORK.
WILKESBARRE, Pa., May 19.—A large number of miners employed by the Lehigh Valley Coal Co. near Avoca, refused to go to work yesterday, fearing that Halley's comet might strike the earth and bring the lives of all to an end.

AT HARVARD OBSERVATORY.
CAMBRIDGE, May 19.—Nightly observations of Halley's comet, made at Harvard observatory since September 1, have resulted in the collection by Prof. O. C. Wendell and Leon Campbell of the observatory staff of data from which the observatory experts may be able to formulate a scientific law as to the brightness of comets in relation to their distance from the earth, it was announced last night.

While a number of students and professors will watch the skies all night, the observatory authorities said last night that they do not expect anything unusual. The comet itself is below the horizon and with the exception of its tail, visible now only to orientals.

The dampness of the atmosphere last night made observation of the comet almost impossible.

and the brilliancy of the moon last night made observation of the tail almost impossible.

Observations of the comet's transit, however, will be made in the Orient by American astronomers, expeditions having been sent to Honolulu and to the Sandwich Islands.

DR. JACOBY'S VIEWS.
NEW YORK, May 19.—"If the earth did not pass through the tail of the comet last night—and I see some observers fortunately situated doubt that it did—I do not believe we will pass through it at all," said Dr. Harold Jacoby, Rutherford professor of astronomy of Columbia university today.

"We may look for the comet now in the western skies in the evening with the possibility of seeing a bit of it tonight, the probability of getting a good view of it tomorrow evening and the practical certainty that by Saturday night, providing clear atmospheric conditions prevail, it will be a brilliant spectacle in the west after sunset," Prof. Jacoby did not think there was anything in the theory which has been advanced that the earth's repulsive force would tend to push away the cometary appendage and that the curvature of the tail noted by observers a few days ago might have been increased so that the earth would miss the luminous haze altogether.

TAIL OF COMET VISIBLE.
WILLIAMS BAY, Wis., May 19.—Setting at variance all scientific predictions and dumbfounding the astronomers at Yerkes observatory here, the tail of Halley's comet was plainly visible in the east just before daybreak today. Professors Barnard and Frost declared, therefore, that the earth has not passed through the tail of the comet, as had been believed. Both agree that the earth has entered the comet's tail but are unable to explain the conditions now prevailing which are without parallel in the history of astronomy.

WALTER E. GUYETTE, Auctioneer

Office, Rooms 77-78 Central Block, 53 Central St. Tel. 2415.

PUBLIC AUCTION SALE OF A 7-ACRE FARM, SITUATED ONE MILE FROM THE END OF THE WESTFORD STREET ELECTRIC CAR LINE ON MAIN ROAD TO WESTFORD, SATURDAY, MAY 21, 1910, AT 3 O'CLOCK P. M.

Owing to my present ill health I have instructed the auctioneer to offer for sale at public auction this rare little farm comprising a 2½ story house of 13 large and airy rooms, very well lighted, steam heated throughout, excellent cellar and water, stable 30x60, henhouse to accommodate 100 hens, seven of the best land, there are 15 apple trees, 10 pear trees, and a variety of other fruit, all bearing this year. This farm is situated on the main Westford road, three miles from Merrimack square, about 12 minutes' walk from the end of the Westford street electric car line on what is known as the Westford street extension. The farm has out, when it was properly cared for, 21 tons of hay each season. The land is level and free from stones, has a frontage of 263 feet, more or less, on the street. Attend this sale, as it is just what you have been looking for, a small place just outside the city and yet within 15 minutes' drive of the very center. An excellent place for a milkman, having been used for such. A most liberal mortgage can remain.

Terms: $200 to be deposited with the auctioneer as soon as struck off; other terms at the sale.
